

Ethiopian Official Leaves For Japan on Secret Trip And May Purchase Arms

Reliable Source Says That Birrou Would Establish Ethiopian Consulate in Japan, Probably at Tokyo.

ITALY SHOCKED

Italians Feel Great Sorrow at the Death of National Figures in Air Crash in Egypt.

Addis Ababa, Aug. 9 (AP).—Daba Birrou, former foreign office official, left for Japan today accompanied by an unidentified Japanese on a secret mission.

It was reported without confirmation that the mission had to do with the purchase of arms and ammunition from the Japanese.

A reliable source said Birrou would establish the first Ethiopian consulate in Japan, probably at Tokyo.

In connection with the arms and ammunition report, it was said Ethiopia would attempt to obtain credit for at least 50 per cent of the value of the order.

Meanwhile British government representatives disclosed today preliminary plans for protection of their nationals and other Europeans under their wing in Ethiopia in the event of an Italian invasion or internal disorders.

More than a month after the United States advised all Americans to leave the country, Great Britain, through its legation here, took similar precautions, but recommended only that women and children be evacuated.

The British representatives also completed plans for concentration of British subjects living in the interior at ten selected points in the event that the internal situation should become serious.

It was estimated that 150 persons were affected throughout Ethiopia, including Danes and Swedes.

Italy Is Shocked

Rome, Aug. 9 (AP).—Italy, shocked by the destruction of one of its most modern airplanes and the death of Public Works Minister Luigi Razza, applied itself with undiminished zeal today toward perfection of its military power.

The disaster to the tri-motored craft which crashed on an Egyptian desert Wednesday night while on an inspection flight to Eritrea, killing seven persons, was viewed with particular concern since the plane was of the type designated for East African service.

Pending the report of an official board of inquiry, no authoritative opinion was expressed as to the cause. Aeronautical circles, however, contended the accident was the result of something other than defective material of construction, asserting this type of plane had demonstrated its efficiency under the most exacting conditions.

The death of Raimondo Franchetti, 46, in the accident deprived Italy of the services of an invaluable expert on East African geography. Franchetti, a noted explorer, had placed himself at the government's disposal for advice on African problems.

With the time drawing near for extensive military maneuvers in North Italy, near the Brenner Pass, it was learned some Fascist militia units of approximately 500,000 men would be called out for the mock warfare and would not be demobilized afterward.

Instead, informed circles reported, they would be held under arms for additional training in preparation for action in the colonies.

The steamship California, converted into a hospital ship, sailed from Toronto for East Africa with a contingent of Red Cross nurses and surgical supplies.

Informed circles said considerable tonnage has been purchased abroad, including two vessels from the Canadian Pacific line and three from the North German Lloyd.

On the diplomatic front, Italy maintained an air of detached unconcern similar to that which characterized its attitude at the time of the recent Geneva deliberations on the Ethiopian crisis.

Informed circles agreed that there was scant hope that the tri-power conversations at Paris next week among representatives of England, France and Italy would produce any great change in Premier Mussolini's policy.

Economic Measures

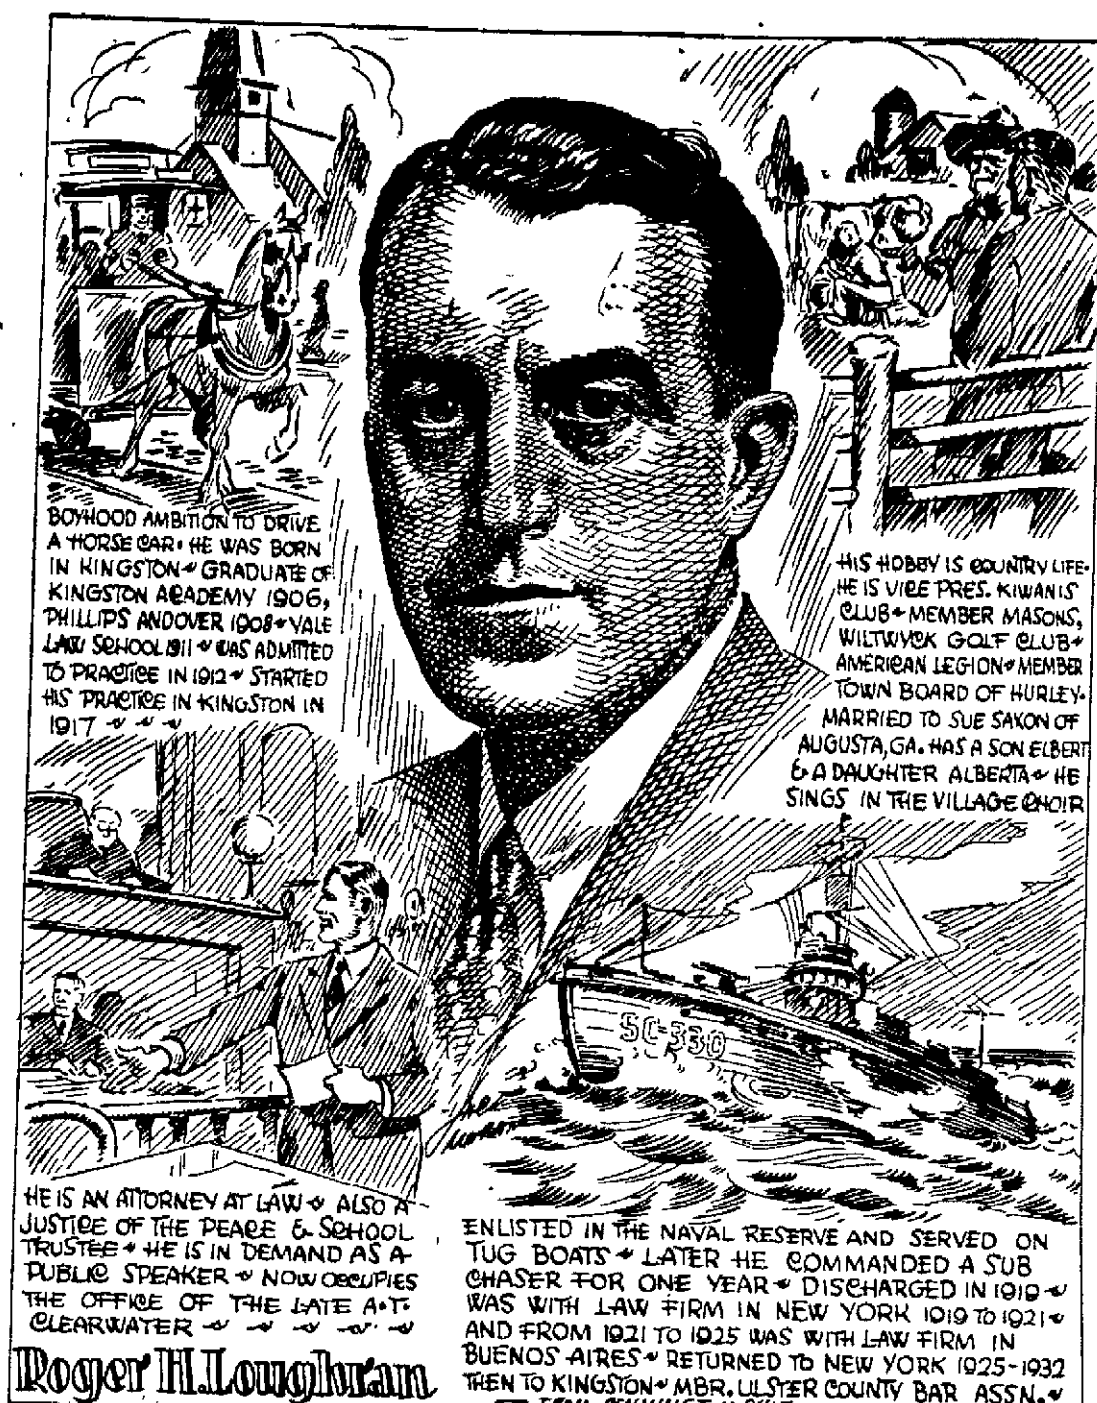

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP).—Economic measures against Italy as an aggressor nation were called for today in a petition sent to Secretary Hull by the committee on international law of the Catholic Association for International Peace.

Declaring that "Ethiopia has made every possible effort to obtain a peaceful solution, while Italy has spoken in terms of conquest and has tried to frustrate the collective opinion of the community of nations," the committee's petition recommends "constructive action" by the United States.

Statement on the Italo-Ethiopian crisis already made by President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, the committee declared, do not go far enough toward carrying out American obligations to the part of Paris.

44 Ulster-Greene Scouts Upset When Huge Jamboree is Cancelled

Consternation is the word to describe the feelings of some 35,000 Boy Scouts and Scout officials and leaders in this country as they learned today that the International Boy Scout Jamboree, which was to have been held at Washington, August 21 to 30, had been called off because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis in sections within an hour or two's drive from Washington.

The announcement that the Jamboree had been canceled was made following a conference at the White House Thursday attended by Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, and District of Columbia officials.

The announcement was received by Scout Executive Wright of the Ulster-Greene Council at the Scout office in Kingston early this morning, in the shape of a communication from the New York office, transmitting a telephoned report from Dr. West. The bulletin received by Mr. Wright said that the Jamboree had been canceled because of the prevalence of poliomyelitis in two epidemic centers in Virginia, within about 100 miles of the District of Columbia, and the increased prevalence in other sections of the country. It was added that the prevalence of the disease at this time was not considered unduly alarming, but that following the conference Thursday it had been decided that it was to the best interest of the scouts to cancel the Jamboree.

44 From This Council

Great interest had been aroused in the Jamboree among Scouts in the Ulster-Greene Council and a delegation of 11 had made all preparations to attend. The delegation comprised 27 scouts, four sea scouts and three leaders and included a dozen from the troops in the city of Kingston. The members of the delegation were all ready to leave on Wednesday next for Camp Half Moon, where they were to spend five days in training and receiving final instructions before they left on Monday, August 19, for Washington.

Some of the troops in the council have been busy for a year past raising money and planning to send one or more of their scouts to the big national gathering and in other cases individual scouts have been working hard and saving their money for this event toward which they looked eagerly forward.

Payments by Scouts. All of the scouts some time since made an initial payment of $25 toward the expenses of the trip and the past week sent in their second payment of $15.00, which covered railroad fare, expenses at the training camp and other details. In addition the boys have made a considerable outlay for new uniforms and

French Police Told To Clean up Centers Of Labor Trouble

Paris, Aug. 9 (AP).—With troops ready but out of sight, the French government today ordered police forces to clean up agitation centers.

Premier Pierre Laval ordered the prefects of all France's 86 departments to confer with him immediately. It was the first such conference in the history of the French republic.

A somewhat easier attitude prevailed as laborers in the government arsenals at Toulon and Brest went back to work and the French Line employees at Le Havre voted to end their strike. Two persons were known to have been killed in the Toulon riot last night.

The object of the prefects' conference was understood to be the development of a more favorable attitude on the part of government employees toward the pay cuts, which the government deems necessary for reasons of economy.

Government officials said the riots of the last few days, which reached a climax last night in Toulon, "seemed to be organized disorders," but "unlikely to continue." The government warned agitators to be quiet but instructed the troops, held ready for action, to remain in the background.

A vast network of police was thrown over Toulon's riot scenes and a house-to-house search today brought 40 arrests and the discovery of many weapons.

The police everywhere were instructed to watch agitators and to be firm but to avoid shooting. The authorities at Toulon said that the guards held their fire even when the mob was shooting last night.

Premier Laval refused any compromise in the shipping strike, but the French Line agreed to compensate the sailors for their pay cuts, decreed by the government. The end of the strike enabled the steamship Champagne to sail from Le Havre at 2 p. m.—two days late—and the steamship Colombia and Lafayette to depart on schedule.

Paris had its own little midnight battle outside a Communist meeting, where a score of political adversaries waylaid and beat four Communists. Two were taken to a hospital.

Troop reinforcements rushed to Toulon after the night's rioting, shooting and pillaging in shipyard workers' demonstrations against pay cuts. Besides the two known dead there were unconfirmed reports that six others were killed. The injured were estimated at from 50 to 200.

Righteous Feeling Caused Jackson Girl To Send A Telegram

Detroit, Aug. 9 (AP).—The assertion that "I didn't think we had done anything" wrong was made by Loretta Jackson, testifying today in the first degree murder trial of William Lee Ferris and three women for the slaying last June 26, of Howard Carter Dickinson, New York attorney.

While the four were hiding in Fort Wayne, Ind., Loretta sent a telegram to her mother in Detroit which resulted in their arrest.

On direct examination today, she said she had realized the telegram might result in officers finding them, but was not apprehensive because she felt she had done nothing wrong.

The Jackson woman told a story of the shooting of Dickinson similar to the stories related by her sister Florence, and Jean Miller, the other women defendants. She said there was no talk among the defendants about robbing or killing Dickinson, although signed confessions by the four said Dickinson was killed during a premeditated holdup.

Pots, Pans and Romance

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 9 (AP).—Fresh impetus was given today to rumors of an off screen romance between Jean Harlow, platinum haired movie star, and the debonair William Powell. The two, known as ultra-sophisticates of the films, were sighted shopping in a Santa Barbara store yesterday—in the pots and pans department.

2 Youths Make Alleged Confessions For Murder Of Laborer at Peekskill

Detectives Capture Pair in New York City Shortly After Midnight When Behavior With Car Arouses Suspicion.

FIVE-STATE ALARM

Had Been Given Ride by Victim, Who Was Shot Following Attempt to Run Away.

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—Assistant District Attorneys E. T. Gallagher and William Moran of Westchester county announced today that New York police had obtained a confession from two youths little more than two hours after a holdup victim was shot to death at Peekskill.

Peter Mohlsick, 20, and Howard Eichler, 21, both of Peekskill, were captured in Chatham Square shortly after midnight by detectives whose suspicions were aroused by their behavior, but who had heard nothing of the 5-state alarm on the slaying of Raymond H. Pierce, 23, a laborer, of Peekskill.

The assistant district attorneys quoted the youths as saying Pierce was the victim of their first holdup. The officials said they confessed the crime in Elizabeth street police station to a large group which included policemen and three detectives who arrested them, Harry Kain, John Kelly and Joseph Grinzi.

Mohlsick said, afterward: "Aw, what the hell?"

One is a Father Eichler, married and the father of an 8-month-old baby girl, responding to the same question: "Are you sorry?"—hung his head and said:

"I don't want to answer that." Gallagher, Moran and Lieutenant E. O. Hegeman of the state police arrived later. They said they read the confessions aloud to the youths and obtained their signatures.

In the alleged confession the two said they met at Peekskill last night and decided to embark on the holdup career, intending to hold up motorists and take their cars, changing cars frequently and making their way to Chicago.

A mile and a half out of Peekskill on the Oregon road, the document said, they stopped Pierce. Eichler, armed with a length of pipe, got in the rear seat of Pierce's sedan. Mohlsick, with a revolver, climbed in the front seat.

After the car had gone a little way, it continued, Mohlsick poked the gun in Pierce's side and commanded: "Give us your car and your money, or I'll plug you."

Pierce, the alleged confession related, jumped out and started to run. Mohlsick fired three shots. The document quoted Mohlsick:

"I knew I'd got him because I heard him scream. I knew he'd die."

Purported Confession The body was found shortly later. The purported confession says the youths drove to Lake Oswawanna, picked up two girls, and finally left them at Scrub Oak, a village seven miles east of Peekskill.

Then they drove to New York, spending all the money they had for a gallon of gasoline. At Chatham Square they stopped the car and tried to pry off the top of the automobile's trunk to see, they were quoted as saying, if they could find something to pawn.

It was this action that aroused the suspicions of the three detectives. Searching Mohlsick, the officers found the gun, took the two youths to the Elizabeth street station and there learned of the alarm for the killers.

"It's a wonder," remarked Detective Kelly to Mohlsick, "having a gun on you, you didn't shoot me."

"Well, I'll tell you," he quoted Mohlsick, "if my partner had had a gun, I'd have shot you and then we'd have shot it out with the other two."

The alleged confession said Mohlsick found the gun along a road near Peekskill three weeks ago.

Mohlsick described himself as a gambler and said he lived at 300 Decker avenue, Peekskill. Eichler said he was a laborer and gambler and lived at 48 South Water street, Peekskill.

Pierce, the victim, was a resident of Oswawanna Corners, north of Peekskill.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, August 8 (AP).—The position of the treasury on August 7 was: Receipts, $66,912,967.18; expenditures, $126,771,434.21; net balance, $1,737,228,098.48. Customs receipts for the month, $7,115,752.20. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $404,688,900.17; expenditures, $311,503,172.18, including $488,774,829.44 of emergency expenditures. Excess of expenditures, $506,604,272.41. Gross debt, $28,019,400,229.02, a decrease of $27,222,496.00 under the previous day. Gold stock, $9,157,875,878.12.

Charged of Responsibility

Winnetka, Conn., August 9 (AP).—Grace Robinson of Weston, New York, newspaper and magazine writer, has been cleared of criminal responsibility in the automobile death of Arthur M. Gordon, 74-year-old Plymouth resident. Gordon was fatally injured July 22, when crossing a Plymouth street.

Loughran Signs Board's Highway Bill to Alleviate Unemployment In County

Appeal To Police For Superintendent Still of Opinion His Proposals Better Course of Action

"We want to get married." This is what Pierre Doree, 42, told Officer Urban Healey at police headquarters this morning at 1:30 o'clock.

"Yes, we do," added Sylvia Snyder, 24, his fiancée.

"But isn't it rather early in the morning for a wedding?" said Healey.

"It might seem so. But we're in a hurry. This is urgent," said the excited would-be bridegroom.

"Well, in that case, we'll see what we can do," was the patrolman's answer.

"Yes, we're on our way to Montreal. That's the reason we're in a hurry. See, we're both buyers for Macy's and we must get away on schedule."

On the marriage license, however, Doree gave his occupation as a pastry baker and his birthplace as France. Miss Snyder stated she was a stenographer. Both gave Fleischmanns as their home address.

Then came the task of getting somebody out of bed to tie the matrimonial knot.

"Let's see, Judge Culliton's not sitting on the bench this week. We'll have to call Judge Gill," said Acting Sergeant Healey.

So Judge Walter H. Gill was aroused out of a deep slumber by the ring of his telephone at 1:30 a. m.

"What! A wedding at this hour. Well, I'll be pleased to officiate if the case is that imperative," said the magistrate to the police. "Send them up to my house."

Looking for 33 Lafayette avenue at 1:30 o'clock in the morning was a task too much for a stranger, and especially an excited bridegroom, so Officer George Bowden, also on duty at headquarters, broadcast instructions to Patrolman Harry Martin and Ed Leonard in one of the radio cars to meet the bride party and escort it to the judge's residence.

"And they were married and I hope will live happily ever after," said Judge Gill this morning when he reported for court looking none the worse for having been called out of bed for the wedding.

Rogers to Put Farley On Republican's Trail

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 9 (AP).—Clouds and rain along the Alaskan coast today dampened plans of Wiley Post and Will Rogers to take off for Skagway or Nome in Post's Red monoplane.

The pair found no dull time upon their hands, however, for Alaskans extended themselves to divert attention from the weather.

Rogers, humorist and film actor, had two sets of rubber garments which he bought yesterday after sampling the 42 of an inch rainfall. Rogers told a luncheon group he had discovered the territorial Senate was composed of eight Democrats and the House 16 Democrats and one Republican.

"I'll get Farley to work on that other guy," he declared.

He informed the Juneau businessmen that there were good times in other parts of the United States but no one would admit it.

At Seattle, meanwhile, Mrs. Post let it be known a "friend" she declined to name who "just flew up here" would take her back to Los Angeles by air to await Post's return from his Alaskan-Siberian tour.

Mrs. Post earlier had intended to accompany her husband.

Martin Dunn Hurt In Auto Accident

Martin Dunn, 39, of 105 Hunter street, is a patient at the Kingston Hospital where he is under the care of Dr. Fred Snyder for bruises suffered in an automobile accident on lower Water street early this morning.

According to a report made to the police by Stanley Traver, 24, of 134 West 125th street, New York city, driver of the car involved, he was proceeding down Water street at 2:45 o'clock. "The pedestrian (Mr. Dunn) was crossing the street, I applied my brakes. I couldn't walk fast into my car."

Today at the hospital, Mr. Dunn was reported as resting comfortably and in fair condition.

Robert Tate Impaired

Yosemite, Calif., Aug. 9 (AP).—Robert Tate, 25, of Inglewood, Calif., who was seriously injured before being rescued from a ledge far up on treacherous Half Dome in Yosemite Valley, was reported "improving" by physicians today but the exact manner in which he was hurt remained a mystery. While marooned on the almost vertical face of the mountain overnight with Miss Elizabeth Lorrimer, 23, of Chicopee, Mass., Tate fell and suffered a broken shoulder and a slight skull fracture. The two were rescued by rangers Wednesday.

Superintendent Still of Opinion His Proposals Better Course of Action

Highway Superintendent Loughran Signs Democratic Plans Solely To Provide Employment For Those Out of Work.

DANGEROUS

Says Many Roads in Dangerous Condition Due to Lack of Funds To Repair Them.

As the only practical way out of the impasse which has maintained in regard to road construction and maintenance work in Ulster county for some time past, following the action of the Democratic majority of the board of supervisors in refusing to approve the road program submitted by County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran, and in turn insisting on a program which did not meet with the approval of the county superintendent, Mr. Loughran has signed the program sponsored by the Democratic members of the board.

Mr. Loughran has filed the necessary papers with Alfred Markle, chairman of the board of supervisors, the papers being delivered to him this morning by special messenger.

Mr. Loughran stated this morning that he was taking this action solely in the interest of relieving the unemployment situation in the county and to secure funds so far as the program adopted by the supervisors permitted, to correct a part of the dangerous road conditions which exist in the county road system and which present not only a menace to the traveling public but are potential sources of lawsuits against the county.

The county superintendent of highways insisted that he had seen no reason to change his original opinion that the program he submitted to the board of supervisors was for the best interest of the county as a whole, and that the program offered by the Democratic majority was entirely inadequate, particularly as regards provisions for repair and maintenance work. However, for the reasons given and with the purpose to do what could be done to give employment to road workers and to correct at least some of the more dangerous road conditions, he had decided to accept the Democratic program and do the best he could under the circumstances.

Loughran's Letter

Mr. Loughran's communication, sent to the chairman of the board this morning, is as follows:

Mr. Alfred Markle, Chairman, Board of Supervisors, Kerhonkson, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

I hand you herewith four original copies of Statement under Sub-division 7 of Section 320-B of the Highway Law in relation to the distribution of "County Road Fund" moneys covering the roads provided for as indicated in a resolution adopted by the Board of Supervisors at a recent meeting. These are being sent you for your signature and that of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in your letter to me under date of July 2, which was received by me on July 5, you stated that you were unable to comply with my request regarding the signing of the Agreement calling for the expenditure of $25,000 from the County Road Fund because there had not been submitted to you with my approval the Agreement calling for expenditure of construction moneys as set forth in the resolution of the Board of Supervisors. It is unfortunate that a small appropriation of only $25,000 was made available when one considers that the Acting County Superintendent of Highways last season had at his command a total sum of about $112,000. You must be aware of the fact that so many of the old macadam roads constructed by the several Towns under Section 320-A of the Highway Law have become so badly worn out that they present a direct menace to the traveling public and for which the County of Ulster only can be held responsible. With this small sum of $25,000 it will be out of the question to even attempt to replace the worn out macadam with new materials.

Need Attention

Many of the Towns will be directly affected by the failure of the Board of Supervisors to provide sufficient funds for the proper repair and completion of the many roads requiring attention, some of which I respectfully refer to you as follows:

Northwagh

High Riot Costs Drain On Funds Of Irish City

Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP)—Outbreaks of street fighting such as that which recently claimed six lives here have proved an expensive luxury to Belfast's taxpayers since the war.

The city has paid out more than $10,000,000 in compensation for injury, death and destruction in that period.

By act of parliament, each civic treasury in the British empire is liable for all riot compensation fixed by the courts when it can be proved that more than three persons caused malicious damage either to property or person. Belfast has found the act a burden.

Police Grow Sterner.

The city's peak years for rioting bills were from 1921 to 1924, when they totaled $590,000, $4,000,000, $3,450,000 and $1,250,000, respectively. Heavy loss of life, entailing payment to relatives, and widespread damage to shops and houses contributed to the figures.

Since those peak years, thanks to sterner police measures in rioting zones, disturbances have been more quickly nipped, but the recent outbreak at Belfast's "Twelfth of July" demonstration will prove a severe blow to the treasury.

In addition to those killed, more than 50 were known to have received treatment for injuries.

Cobble Stones Removed.

But for the strict preventive measures adopted by the authorities in recent years the toll would have been much higher. Armored cars, curfew laws, banning of processions and prohibition of street gatherings have helped keep matters in hand.

Another helpful measure has been the repaving of most of the city's cobbled streets with concrete, thus depriving the rioters of their favorite ammunition. The initial cost of repaving was high, but the concrete may pay for itself in time.

HIGHLAND

Highland, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Marian Richards, public health nurse, is arranging a baby clinic to be held Tuesday for children up to one year of age. They will be weighed and measured, and if necessary a doctor will be in attendance. Mrs. Richards will talk to the mothers on summer feeding of babies.

Mrs. Alvin Smith is confined to her home by a sudden attack of appendicitis. Mrs. Smith is one of the post office clerks.

Arthur Ostrander and his daughter, Doris, of Woodbury, N. J., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Carrie Ostrander this week. Mrs. Ostrander is with her relatives in Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Martin Upright, Mrs. Clifton M. Carpenter and Elaine Carpenter are vacationing at Massapequa, N. J. Mrs. Emma Bratt, Miss Leah Bratt with Miss Elizabeth Gales of Newburgh returned Monday night from a week-end trip to Allegheny county to see the former's son, Bentley Bratt, who is with the men eradicating pine tree rust. This is found on black currant bushes in that section. Mr. Bratt was located at Scioto at the time.

Miss Dorothy Seaman, accompanied by a friend from New York, drove up to Lake George Tuesday and returned Thursday afternoon.

The assessors, Thomas Shay, William Ambrose and Hudson Covert, have completed the assessment roll for 1935 and will meet in the town hall in the third Tuesday of August to hear any complaints from property holders.

James Richards returned Sunday from Center Harbor, N. H., where he had spent a month with relatives. Dollar day Thursday in the Willcox store was attracting large crowds all day.

Mr. Elmer Randall and two sons returned Wednesday from a two weeks camping trip on Raquette lake.

The babies born during July in the town of Lloyd were: A son, George, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. George Calhoun on July 7; a daughter, Verile Rauder, born July 27 to Mr. and Mrs. David Frederick; a daughter, Benette, born July 29 to Mr. and Mrs. Benny Lombardo; a daughter, Barbara Ann, born July 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baker.

A Court of Honor for the Boy Scouts was held Monday evening at the high school gym when County Executive Wright presented medals to Philip DiStasi and Francis Rhea as first class scouts and to those of second class: Roelf DuBois, Robert Callahan, Robert Coutant, George Lane, Frank LaFale, William Dapp, John Salvatori. The first two will leave Wednesday for Cairo where they will be in training until Monday when they will be in training for the jamboree at Washington. The local troop expects to be down at the West Shore station to see the train pass.

The town nurse committee has turned in the car used by the town nurse, Mrs. Marian Richards and purchased a new Terraplane which went into use Wednesday. The new one bears the wording, "Public Health Nurse, Highland, N. Y." on the door.

Use of "Lie" and "Lay"

The verbs "lie" and "lay" are often misused; "lie" is intransitive and takes no object, while "lay" is transitive and requires an object. "Lay" is the causative form, meaning cause to lie. The past tense of "lie" is "lay" and the past participle is "lain"; the past tense of "lay" is "laid" and the past participle "laid." Example: "The book lies on the table; it lay there yesterday, in fact it has lain there several days." "He lays the blame for this where he has always laid it." "They laid down this rule."

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Men Without Names." The gangsters and "G-men" have it hot and heavy all over again in this Paramount story of U. S. Department of Justice agents. It runs along in the same vein as the others, and Fred MacMurray, Lynn Overman, Madge Evans, Leslie Fenton and David Jack Holt all work hard to make the play a bit performance. The trouble with this run of "G-men" stories is the unfortunate circumstance that they must necessarily be the same. There must be a gangster and his dirty mob of ruffians on the loose with the serious, methodical eye of the law tracking him down at almost all odds. For a tough and heartless gangster, Leslie Fenton is well cast in this play, and he heads the lowest mob of rats ever seen in a motion picture. It is a pleasure to see the law pick off his evil crew one by one.

Orpheum: "Our Little Girl" and "Red Blood of Courage." Shirley Temple gives one of her best performances in the first feature, and although the story is trite and ineffective, she gives a standout characterization as the little daughter who saves her parents from cracking up on the matrimonial rocks. Joel McCrae, Rosemary Ames and Lyle Talbot furnish good atmosphere for the acting genius of Miss Temple. "Red Blood of Courage" is as brave as its title, a thriller with Kermit Maynard starred.

Kingston: "A Dog of Flanders" and "Baby Face Harrington." The opening play at the Kingston is probably the world's most beloved story of a boy and his dog. It is a perfectly done bit of screen work and is recommended to the entire family. Frankie Thomas, O. P. Heggie, Helen Parrish are in the cast. "Baby Face Harrington" is a study in mistaken identity wherein a timid, retiring little fellow is mistaken for a tough gangster, and before the show is finished, any audience is sure to find enough laughs and side splitting situations to please anyone. A fine cast offers Charles Dutterworth, Eugene Pallotte, Una Merkel and Harvey Stephens.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Broadway Gondolier." Filled to the cuppers with talent from radio, stage and screen, this nautical tale of a taxi driver who goes to Venice in order to be a great radio sensation, has all the earmarks of another Warner Brothers box office attraction, for it has the coily singing Dick Powell in the starring role, to say nothing of the Mills Brothers, Ted Fio Rito and his band, The Canova Cutups, Joan Blondell, Adolphe Menjou, Grant Mitchell, William Gargan and Louise Fazenda. The show is a tale of laughter and music, as it tells of a New York taxi driver, anxious to be a radio singer. When the big shots of the air waves pay him no heed, he goes to Italy, paddles a canoe as a gondolier, and comes back to America a positive sensation. Mr. Powell is at his best in the romantic role of a gondolier, the supporting cast is excellent, and nothing has been spared to make the show an earful and an eye-ful for the most particular audience.

Orpheum: Same.

Kingston: "Escape Me Never." Elizabeth Bergner, talented and lovely German star of the stage, shows Hollywood some rare acting during the course of this, her first film venture in the United States. It's the wistful, engrossing story of a woman and her tiny child who are adopted by a young and handsome musical genius. Their lives together, some times tragic, sometimes humorous, but always realistic, is motion picture entertainment at its best. Miss Bergner gives a complete and absorbing characterization, and the work of Hugh Sinclair is also excellent. The direction is something to cheer about, and some of the camera shots are unusually beautiful. A don't miss attraction that stamps Miss Bergner as one of the real actresses of Hollywood.

"Garden of Rest" Dedicated.

Stoke Poges, England (AP).—Twenty acres of meadowland adjoining Stoke Poges church, scene of Gray's "Elegy," have been dedicated by the Bishop of Buckingham as a "garden of rest." The cost of laying out the ground is estimated at about $250,000.

Gregory Exhibiting Temple Water Colors

Harry C. Temple of Woodstock, has an exhibition and sale of water colors at Gregory & Company, Broadway, for the last three weeks in August.

There is a variety of subjects and each one is handled with sympathetic understanding. Mr. Temple, shows a thorough knowledge of color which few artists seem to possess. His "In the Hemlocks" is strong and masterful; while "Nature's Lace" is delicate and beautiful in color and pattern; "Sky Shadows" is dreamy and skillfully handled; "Portland Harbor" brings back pleasant memories and is peaceful and charming.

Each subject has its special appeal and the exquisite harmony and beauty of color make any one of them invaluable as a center of interest in the well furnished room. Then too, they bring close at hand things we all love to see.

Mr. Temple is to be congratulated on his splendid contribution to art.

ROSENDALE FLOWER SHOW TO AID SCOUT TROOP

A flower show will be held in Rosendale Wednesday, September 18, for the benefit of Troop 18, Boy Scouts of America. The affair will be held in the Firemen's Hall. The show is held under the auspices of the Mother's Club of the Rosendale village school, and the troop committee. Mrs. George Winters has been chosen general chairman for the flower show. Other committee members will be announced later. Cooperation of all will be gratefully appreciated.

"FELT MISERABLE MOST OF THE TIME"

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Checked Her Constipation

Read Mrs. Maraden's letter: "I have been a subject of constipation for the last 11 years. I felt miserable and irritable most of the time. My husband is a manager of a chain store. He said 'Why don't you try Kellogg's All-Bran?'"

"All-Bran helped me right away. I have taken it now for the past 5 months, and I am as regular as a clock. My health is fine, and I am full of pep."—Mrs. Charles Maraden, 681 Merrick St., Detroit, Mich.

"Constipation due to inefficient 'bulk' in meals.

All-Bran provides gentle "bulk" to aid regular habits. It also supplies vitamins B and iron.

The "bulk" of All-Bran is more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Events Around The Empire State

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Food poisoning was believed responsible today by health authorities for the serious illness of four members of a Troy family as they prepared to analyze food particles left in a small can found in the home.

The victims are John Salo, 43, unemployed; his wife, Catherine, 42, and their sons, Michael, 18, and Joseph, 10.

Authorities said contents of the can were eaten Wednesday night, and the family was stricken the following morning.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—The village of Sydney, Delaware county, is preparing today for a boom which will double its present population of 300.

Construction of 80 new buildings by the Federal Housing Administration of a $500,000 project to house 500 new workers of the Schenectady Magnet Company plant, Sydney's only industry.

The plant recently contracted for a $250,000 addition.

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Federal Bar Association's special commission investigating mortgage certificate racketeering was pledged today to deal with the "machinations and crookedness of men high in our social life, who have ruthlessly handled and dissipated the savings of the poor."

"It will be our business to ascertain the part played by the financial institutions behind Vesey street and their legal advisors," said State Senator John J. McNaboe, chairman.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—The trophies collected in Africa by the late George Eastman during his hunting trips with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson and the late Carl Akeley, have been presented to the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences.

The trophies formerly adorned the hunting room at the Eastman mansion which was willed to the University of Rochester as a residence for the institution's president by the Kodak magnate.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Update hearings of the joint legislative committee investigating public utilities, scheduled to be resumed today at Utica, have been postponed for at least another week.

Former Supreme Court Justice John E. Mack, committee counsel, announced the postponement, but gave no reason.

American Clipper Set For Pacific Flight

Alameda, Calif., Aug. 9 (AP)—Under the command of a new skipper, the Pan American's Clipper Ship was groomed today for a flight to tiny Wake Island, 5,000 miles away.

The big 19-ton flying boat, blazing a trail for proposed passenger service between California and the Orient, was scheduled to take-off at 3 p. m. (6 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

Capt. R. O. D. Sullivan will be the skipper on the flight—the third of its series of trans-Pacific hops. He was second in command under Capt. Edwin C. Musick when the first two flights were made. Captain Musick now is in the east on business.

Ulster County Artists Adopt Constitution, Action Is Forecast

Woodstock, Aug. 9.—At the second general meeting of the Ulster County Artists League, held on Wednesday evening, the preamble and main body of the constitution were read and adopted. The by-laws were left to be adopted at a later date. The Ulster County Artists League, a new organization, was organized on July 24 at a meeting held in Woodstock, for the express purpose of uniting all professional artists, living in Ulster county, on a purely economical basis, without regard to any aesthetic creed as stated in the following preamble of the organization's constitution.

This organization seeks to unite all professional artists of Ulster county on an economic basis. It is non-political and non-sectarian. It will aim in every way to further and protect the economic interest of the artist by working for his employment at adequate compensation to him. It is its immediate aim to secure employment for all unemployed artists through the medium of projects, governmental and private. It will sponsor exhibitions, particularly in places where such projects are contemplated or in progress.

The organization consists at present of more than 100 charter members, embracing and representing all branches of graphic arts and crafts. Artists wishing to join this organization and interested in participating in forthcoming WPA projects should communicate with the chairman of the membership committee, Harry Gottlieb, Woodstock, before August 10, if possible.

Letters brought up by the executive committee and sent to Judson Smith were read. The first one signed by 75 or 80 artists, expresses the hope that the expiring TERA project be continued until taken over by WPA in a few months. The chairman, Russell Lee, reported that as things look now this will be accomplished. The executive committee reported on a discussion held with Mrs. McMahon, executive secretary of the College Art Association, relating to government projects. At the executive meeting held last Friday the following sub-committees with their chairmen were agreed upon: Publicity, Arnold Wiltz; projects and exhibitions, Russell Lee; membership, Harry Gottlieb; executive secretary, J. Taylor; recording secretary and treasurer, Peter Mearns.

Orville Peets was elected to the executive board to replace a resigning member.

Ulster County artists interested in applying for home relief in connection with forthcoming WPA projects should register at the Woodstock School of Painting on Saturday morning of this week. Judson Smith will be available for this purpose from 9 to 12. Those who are actually working or being staggered on the present TERA project need not re-new application but all who have never been on this project, or were dropped, must apply. Requirements for eligibility to these proposed projects have not been made up so anyone who was not eligible at other times may, under the new projects, have a right to be included. It is important that registration be made on Saturday.

Forlorn Women Wait Long Prison Terms

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—A pair of middle aged women whose forlorn hope for freedom lay in living past the age of 100 years, today faced formal commitment to Dwight Reformatory for the "swamp murder" of Erving J. Lang.

For Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, the victim's mother-in-law who admitted she planned his death because of jealousy, and a fear that he would leave the apartment they shared since the death of his wife, the 150-year-sentence prescribed by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington was a severe blow.

"I'd rather have the chair," she whimpered.

For Mrs. Evelyn Smith, former burlesque dancer, who confessed killing Lang and hacking off his legs "just as a favor," imprisonment promised relief from a struggle against the rougher elements of life.

"The verdict's O. K. with me—I won't have to worry about eating now," she said.

Once inside the women's prison the two women will mark the passage of the years only by the anniversary of the murder—July 6. Judge Harrington directed that they spend that day of each year in solitary confinement.

Under the law Mrs. Dunkel will be eligible for parole at the age of 104 years and Mrs. Smith 106 years, after serving—60 years each.

Lang's torso, swathed in blankets and towels, was found in a swamp near Hammond, Ind.

More than 2,000 exhibits of the gladiolus will feature this year's display of the empire state gladiolus society at Cornell University, August 16 and 17.

NO EASY NEUTRALITY.

The subject of American neutrality in time of war between other nations has been under investigation for several months by the State, Navy and War Departments with the assistance of international lawyers. As Secretary of State Hull says, the question becomes more difficult the more it is studied. It is unlikely, therefore, that Congress will enact a neutrality law during the present session. The President, in recommending such legislation, added that he would not urge it now if debate on it would prolong the session unduly.

Some day, as soon as it is reasonably possible, it would be well to have our neutrality clearly defined and the means provided by law for maintaining it. Citizens who say glibly that the United States must keep out of foreign wars hereafter do not always realize all that a neutral role involves. There are such matters to be arranged as the selling of munitions and other goods to any or all of the belligerents. Food, clothing, raw materials, etc., though not connected with war directly, become tremendously important to any warring country. But the neutral shipper may be torpedoed. What then?
 What of blockades? There is also the matter of American rights in the war area, and of American transportation on ships of belligerent nations.

Certain privileges, profits and habits would have to be temporarily surrendered by citizens of a strictly neutral nation. Foreign travel, for instance, might have to be postponed. Domestic jingoism and sympathies with one or another belligerent would bring pressure to bear to end neutrality. The nation must decide its policy and then stick to it courageously in spite of these things.

SEX IN POLITICS.

We're getting a little disturbed over the political situation in Mexico. Everybody there is hot and bothered. The distressing fact is that the village has split along sex lines and seems determined to stay split.

It seemed to outsiders nothing more than a good poke on the men when, two years ago, the women hung together at election time and voted themselves into all the offices.
 But the men didn't like it, and as time wore on they wearied more and more of the petticoat rule. Or maybe it's pafama rule or shoria rule by this time. Anyway, the trousered and overalled sex finally put up an all-male slate and elected themselves to office again. But that's all the good it did. The women wouldn't budge. They insist that the men have not been legally sworn into office and besides are not treating the womenfolks respectfully.
 So the men are appealing to the courts.

It looks like a good case for courting rather than courting. Be that as it may, the situation is serious. If the feud continues, what can those Mexican people do but establish separate towns, one for men and the other for women? They could call one town Amazonia. The Greeks probably had a name for the other, too. Wouldn't it be Amazonia or something like that? Amazonia and Amazonia the Twin Towns of Kivac. There might be money in it as well as offices. People would drive hundreds of miles to see each a political system in operation.

HARD BOILED VOTERS.

When the country first realized that Congress would be in session through the summer, considerable sympathy was expressed for members. It was generally remarked that Washington had an unforgettable summer climate. How sad Congressmen could not go home to cool off.

Then a large part of the country suffered a prolonged spell of exceptional warmth and humidity, and popular comment about the unfortunate law makers changed. Was it cool in the harvest fields, farmers asked? Were Congressmen's discomfort any greater than his, demanded John Citizen? Two weeks' vacation is all I got, remarked many a voter, and my income is a small fraction of my Congressman's. It was observed that many of the legislators came from sections of the country just as warm as Washington, so that going home wouldn't give them weather relief. As for work, if they went home most of them would be actively mending political fences. All right then. Let 'em stick to their job.

All this comment may be unfair, and a little shortsighted. If legislators suffer seriously from the heat, legislation may suffer, too, and that will be hard on the folks back home.
 However that may be, sympathy no longer goes out to sweltering Congressmen in the good old way.
 There is meat for meditation in that fact, when they have time and brains to spare for such meditation.

TOPEY-TURVY

"In this topey-turvey age," writes a reader, "ministers deny God, women rule men, children dictate to parents, criminals are coddled and protected, servants rebel against masters, attempts are made to limit and prevent procreation of children, mediocrity is rewarded, talent is neglected, beggars ride horseback (automobiles), and men are encouraged to live without working."

So far as we have been able to learn, by a sketchy reading of history and general literature, there never yet was an age amounting to anything that wasn't topey-turvey and full of people who enjoyed themselves by telling each other how bad things were.

That Body of Yours

— BY

 the Copyright Act.)

PERNICIOUS ANAEMIA.

When Dr. Bantling of Toronto discovered that insulin, a juice obtained from the pancreatic gland, would enable the blood in the diabetic to use sugar to maintain strength and energy instead of having it thrown out of the body in the urine, the "cure" for diabetes was said to have been found.

Insulin is not the cure for diabetes
 — there is no cure as yet — but as insulin enables most diabetics to go about their work, enjoy life and live as long as other people, it really makes no difference about the finding of a "cure" at present.

Similarly when Dr. Minot and Murphy, Boston, discovered that calf's liver would make rich red corpuscles in the blood enabling patients with pernicious anaemia to continue to live instead of dying in one or two years, it was said that the "cure" for this formerly incurable disease had been found. And in a sense liver is a cure as many patients can go off the liver diet for weeks at a time.

However, just as insulin is needed regularly and must be used daily by patients with diabetes, so also must patients with pernicious anaemia take liver in some form always.

Thus Dr. J. F. Wilkinson in the Practitioner, London, points out:
 "The fundamental principle underlying the successful treatment of pernicious anaemia is that it must be recognized as a permanent condition—not enough red corpuscles and iron in the blood and so the red corpuscles and iron must be replaced in the blood by liver, liver extract, extract of hog's stomach."
 These must be given in sufficiently large amounts to maintain the blood in a normal condition and keep the patient free from symptoms.

This means that the blood must be examined about every three months and the amount of liver or the extracts must be increased or decreased according to the condition of the blood. If there are any signs, however slight, of nervous symptoms, the treatment must be

"The prognosis—the likely outcome—is good provided the above points are kept in mind and adequate treatment with an "active" preparation (liver, liver extract, extract of hog's stomach) is taken for the rest of the patient's life."

To be enabled to live despite having pernicious anaemia is certainly worth the slight trouble of having the blood examined every three or six months.

READY MADE WIFE

— BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie has forgotten the complications of her own life in her year for her sister who had gone to Paris from London on a quest with Jimmy Dallas. Laurie does not trust Jimmy, so she begs Moore, the famous aviator, to fly her to Paris. He does, he is in love with Laurie, and Laurie with him, yet each is engaged to another.
 The last few lines are going to Dallas hotel.

Chapter 45

LOST GIRL

THERE was a certain number of tourists walking back to their hotels in the hot July night, after supper. But mostly people on the street were Parisians of the middle and working classes, children of these beautiful streets, who play out their life stories, drama, comedy and tragedy, on these beloved parisian streets.

Laurie had only walked a few steps when she saw a lighted sign over the portico of one of the buildings.

She went in, and passed the liveried porter, making her way to the reception office at one side of the luxurious vestibule.

"I want to see Mr. James Dallas of London," she said to a clerk. She had no eyes for the splendid and tasteful decoration of the place, the damask hangings, the gilding, the banks of flowers. She did not hear the soft, enticing sounds of a string orchestra in the distance. She was here, at her goal.

"Yes, Madame," the clerk said.
 He consulted a large board at the back of the office. "Monsieur James Dallas—of London. I will find out if he is in his rooms. What name, if you please, Madame?"

"Mrs. Moore," said Laurie boldly.
 The clerk went into an inner office, and returned in a few moments.

"Monsieur Dallas is in his suite, Madame, and will be pleased if you will go upstairs."

Laurie was amazed. She had not expected such an easy entrance. For a moment she experienced intense relief. Things must be all right. She had been prepared to batter in his door, to call in the police, if necessary.

She was taken up, and the door of a large sitting-room was opened for her. It was full of flowers, but smelt of food and wine fumes and tobacco.
 There were desert dishes and champagne bottles, coffee cups and liqueur decanters spread on the cloth in confusion.

Jimmy had obviously had too much to drink, and he was alone.
 Jimmy Dallas looked at Laurie with foolish eyes. He leaned back in his gilded, rose-bronze arm-chair, and a fatuous smile came over his face.

"So you've come back, you little fool!" he said. His voice was thick and a trifle out of control, but it still had the infection which conquered many more girls than poor Gladys, like the piping of Pan in a dark wood at mid-day. "I know you'd come back," he went on. "As if you could run away from me when we'd just started on our good time!"

"What are you talking about, Mr.
 Dallas?" asked Laurie sternly.
 "Where is Gladys, my sister?"

"Oh! He rose unsteadily, and, leaning across the table, stared at her, blinking. "Good Lord, it's you! They rang up and said 'a lady.'
 So I thought the little idiot had thought better of it and come back."
 "Where is Gladys?" Laurie repeated. "I am Mrs. Moore, her sister."

"So you are! I see it now. The little school marm who's not nearly so quiet as she seems! A clever little piece you must be, too, from all accounts! You came to my place, didn't you—the other day?"

"I came to tell you to leave my sister alone. And now you've persuaded her to come to Paris with you. You've tricked her into this madness. Where is she?"

He poured out a glass of neat brandy and drank it down. It had, curiously enough, an almost immediate sobering effect on him. There was a white tinge about his mouth, though. An ugly, sinister look had come into his greenish-brown eyes.

"You must know where she is, Mr.
 Dallas. I know she came to Paris with you. Her friend in Streatham gave me this address. She knew about it!"

"Dirty little beast! And Gladys is a little liar. She told me nobody knew."

"Be quiet! You needn't say that.
 It was wicked of her to help Gladys."

THE story of Gladys's flight comes out tomorrow.

GERMAN MONEY SUNK

BY NAZI FILM RULING.

Berlin. (AP)—The Neues Deutsches Lichtspieltheater, a German firm of film producers, has learned that 250,- 000 Austrian schillings, invested in a Vienna firm, might as well be written off as lost.

The company subscribed the money toward the production of a film entitled, "Epiphany," in which Paula Wessely, a German favorite, plays the leading role.

When the film reached the Nazi propaganda ministry, its experts discovered that its author, Walter Rutisch, is a Jew. The film was promptly placed on the black list.

Public Not Invited

 night's Freeman to the effect that the public has not been invited to the picnic of the club Saturday.
 The affair will be strictly star and for club members only.

POLITICS at Random

By SYRON PRICE

(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S projected swing to the west coast and back is expected universally to provide the chief focus of political interest during the early fall. That he will talk directly to the farmers and the western liberals is taken for granted. He also is being advised to show himself to the public as often as possible along the way, to scotch the "whispering campaign" about his health.

A part of the Democratic strategy now seems to be to give Senator Long so many things to worry about in Louisiana next year that he will have no time to devote to other states—for instance Arkansas and Mississippi, where Senators Robinson and Harrison, respectively, will be running for reelection.

At least the usual amount of under-surface politics is stirring in politically-minded Indiana. Two former Republican senators, James E.
 Watson and Arthur Robinson, are being put forward quite earnestly by their respective friends for the presidential nomination in 1936.
 Whatever that may mean nationally, it forecasts a determined struggle for control of the state Republican organization.

G. O. P. Contributions Up

 ity around the Washington headquarters of the Republican national worth the candle.

Hitchcock Was Right

IN SPITE of all the recent speculative publicity, there is no mystery about the intentions of the Democratic high command with respect to Senator Borah of Idaho. The Democrats plan to run a candidate against Borah next year, and if they see any real chance to beat him they will try hard to do so, just as they will try hard to beat all other Republicans who did not support Mr.
 Roosevelt in 1932 and show no sign of supporting him in 1936. . . . The death of Frank Hitchcock, one-time Republican national chairman, recalls that he was about the only Republican scout in 1932 whose reports to headquarters turned out to be correct. He sent in word early in the campaign that the entire west was lost to Hoover. Few around headquarters believed him. . . . News comes from the midwest that the Klan is trying for another political comeback. Road signs have appeared in Ohio saying: "Communism will not be tolerated. The Ku Klux Klan rides again." The exact destination of the expedition remains undeclosed.

The Magician

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WILLY NILLY knocked at the door of the magician's house.

"Who is there?" answered a voice from within.

"Willy Nilly, and Christopher Co-mbses Crow, and Mrs. Quacko Duck," the little man shouted back.

"Squel, squeal, squeal," came from the voice of something very much like a pig. "I hope you've brought me something to eat and that you'll scratch my back."

"We haven't anything with us to eat," said Willy Nilly, "but we'll scratch your back."

"You will, eh?" came from within.
 And the voice this time sounded like that of a little chirping bird. "I don't care about having my back scratched, thank you."

Willy Nilly, Christopher and Mrs.
 Duck looked at each other. They were very much puzzled, even though they knew they were at the house of a magician.

"Have you a lot of animals in there?" Willy Nilly shouted. "We're

Soil Erosion
Hordes of gullies now remind us we should build our lands to stay. And, departing, leave behind us fields that will not float away. Then when some assume the mortgage on the land that's had our toll.

They'll not have to ask the question: "Here's the farm, but where's the soil?"

Gertie—I think it's a shame to send those nice marines to China. What will they do there?

Peggy—Good Heavens, Gert! Ain't you ever been out with a marine?

The honeymoon is over, gentlemen, when your wives start complaining about the noise you make getting breakfast.

Helen—You say they arrested that dancer for no cause at all?

Ferdie—No; for no gauze at all.

Some women can remember their husband's first kiss, while others can't remember their first husbands.

The workman was engaged in excavating operations. The curious stranger was looking on.

Stranger—What are you digging for?

Workman (looking up)—Money.

Stranger (surprised)—And when do you expect to strike it?

Workman (as he resumed his toil)—Saturday.

The perfect example of will power is the ability to eat one salted peanut.

Bride—Oh, Jack darling, it is all just like a dream, is it not?

Groom (who had been hit with an old shoe, got rice down his neck, and forgotten the railroad ticket)—It's so long since I have dreamed of anything but you that I cannot really say.

When you speak to other people for their good, it is influence. When other people speak to you for your own good, it is interference.

Man—Is it true that your wife has brain fever?

Friend—Why no, but she's got the next thing to it.

Man—What's that?

Friend—Hat fever.

What a Relief!
Huey is a nuisance, but we'll soon wipe him clean.

From all the press front pages, and dots on Dizzy Dean.

It's funny how some fellows can always be wrong and never know it.

Wife—No, Henry, I don't think a man should marry a dentist.

Man—And why not?

Wife—If they fought, it would be tooth and nail.

A bridegroom of June, 1925, already informs us that he calls his wife "Angel" because she is no earthly good.

Youth—At the beach last summer I flirted with a girl and she called an officer.

Friend—Lucky dog! I also flirted with one last summer and she called a preacher.

TAX COINS STIR MORGENTHAU

Midget, or sales tax coins are being manufactured by Colorado state, but Secretary of the U. S. Treasury Morgenthau says they are illegal. JAPANESE TRADE FLOOD TURNED ASIDE BY EGYPT

Cairo, Egypt (AP)—Predictions that an exchange dumping duty on Japanese rayon and cotton goods will shortly be imposed by the Egyptian government have followed recent termination of the Japanese-Egyptian trade treaty on the ground that depreciation of the yen gives Japanese goods an excessive advantage.

Commercial circles here believe such action will lead to a large increase in cotton goods trade with Europe and several firms are renewing connections in Great Britain and Czechoslovakia that lapsed with the Japanese imports.

The punitive action against Japan reportedly is due to government determination to end "unfair" Japanese competition which virtually has halted Egyptian trade with countries upon whom she depends for her own foreign sales.

Rio De Janeiro (AP)—The federal council for foreign commerce is trying to work out a plan on behalf of Brazil's newspaper publishers which will give them relief from high exchange rates which have made the cost of newspaper burdensome. Most of the paper comes from Europe.

The gladiolus was planted on graves by the Greeks in olden times. The Romans, however, gave the flower its present name because of the resemblance between the leaves and the short swords of the Roman soldiers.

Buffing Wheels Likely Hyde Park Business

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt's home town which has been trying for six months to create a new community industry for its unemployed, is considering the manufacture of buffing wheels. It was disclosed today.

Paul Garrigue, mainspring of the Hyde Park Association, said the town was pinning hopes on the outcome of tests now being made with a new kind of buffing wheel on which a patent is held by John Stiller, a Hyde Park citizen.

If the wheels are satisfactory and we can find a market for them we will be in a position to go ahead with their manufacture," Garrigue said.

Since the night last winter that townspeople sat down with Mrs. Roosevelt in the cozy town hall to discuss local unemployment, three projects have been considered and laid aside. At that meeting Mrs. Roosevelt said the suggestion had been made that Hyde Park could lift itself out of the depression by its own bootstraps, by creating a local industry.

The raising of flax, a canning factory, and a shoe factory were the proposals discarded.

"As a matter of fact," Garrigue commented, "to find a business that can compete with other businesses in all channels of commerce, as almost anyone except a few geniuses will admit, isn't easy."

The buffing wheel in which the town is interest uses an abrasive ingrained in the material rather than an abrasive applied while the wheel is in use, Garrigue said.

Many Homes Battle Flood Water Odors

Chloride of Lime, Common Rock Salt, Acid Phosphate, Recommended

Ithaca, Aug. 9.—With continued rains and waterlogged soil still widespread, many basements in homes in the flood areas have not had a chance to dry out completely. Homemakers have been asking how to get rid of odors that come from basements and cellars and permeate the whole house.

Some basements, it is pointed out, may be dry, but polluted waters have passed over them; or materials have decayed on them, and they need disinfecting.

G. W. Cavanaugh, professor of chemistry at Cornell University, says chloride of lime may be sprinkled over the floor to remain for two or three hours and then washed out. This substance will disinfect and remove the objectionable odors.

"Because some persons object to the odor of chloride of lime, common rock salt or stock salt may be substituted. Sprinkle this over the basement; if the floor is dry, spray or pour a small amount of water over the salt. This makes a strong brine which should be allowed to stand on the floor for an hour or two, or until it dries. Then wash the floor."

"Acid phosphate, commonly used by farmers, will remove ammonia-like odors, especially in dirt-bottom cellars."

Another common question: "How may I fumigate my rooms, and articles polluted by infected waters? Linens, cooking utensils and similar goods, of course, may be sterilized by boiling in water for a half-hour. But what about furniture and walls?"

The use of a sulphur or a formaldehyde candle, obtainable at drug stores, is suggested.

"Burn these candles in a closed room, with the doors and windows shut for about two hours. The gases from these candles will penetrate the pores of walls and even the stuffing of overstuffed furniture. The sulphur candle, however, will bleach any colored material and rust metal hinges or knobs, and should be used only with wooden chairs and uncolored fabrics. Directions on each candle tell the amount of space the candle will fumigate, and from these figures the number of candles needed can be determined."

The care of cuts and bruises is another problem that probably has not been given much thought by homemakers, says the New York State college of home economics.

The college says: "Because the dirt and mud in flood areas is likely to be polluted, children who go barefoot are in greater danger of exposure to tetanus from a cut or open wound than during normal times. Since children are apt to stub their toes or cut themselves, the safest precaution is to keep them from going barefoot. Treat all cuts, bruises, or abrasions immediately with tincture of iodine or some other good antiseptic."

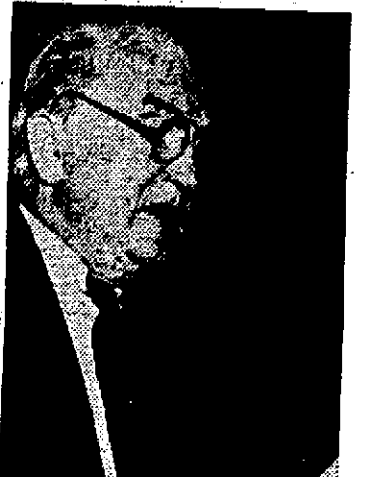

"Grown-ups are not exempt from such risks of cuts and bruises at this time. When adults go into the basement to clean up debris or wet floors, when they work on debris outdoors, or even when they wash and fumigate household goods, they should care for cuts and injuries immediately. Work with gloves, if possible, to prevent injury to the hands."

"SHOP ON FAIR STREET"

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—More lives than the traditional cat has the movie western, now launched vigorously on its tenth or eleventh reincarnation in the past 10 years alone.

There is only one major studio today which does not provide a budget of outdoor romances, and that is Metro, which currently offers "Robin Hood of El Dorado" as a more ambitious substitute based on the doings of Joaquin Murieta (Warner Baxter) in early California days.

O'Brien Changes Style

Paramount has gone for the outdoor idea with all the vigor of a typical hero. Harold Hurley is producing a group of Zane Grey stories, "Wanderer of the Wasteland" having recently been completed, along with his films of other types. And Harry Sherman, independent producer, is starring Bill Boyd in six "Hopalong Cassidy" yarns for Paramount release.

George O'Brien has left the old style western for a more glorified type of outdoor story, some like "Hard Rock Harrigan" being minus the suggestion of horse or gun—and indeed many of the new crop of westerns are far different from the old "formula" pictures.

Universal's Buck Jones and Columbia's Ken Maynard are old standbys on exhibitor programs, while Warner Bros. is launching Nick Foran (re-titled Dick Foran for the purpose) as a new star of westerns. The former Princetonian and ex-Fox contract player begins with one called "Moonlight on the Prairie" and will make five more this year in the character of Ace Andrews. Here will be a singing cowboy, for Foran's first break came with his voice.

Carey Still Herds 'Em

RKO's "Powdermill Range" represents a round-up of many popular western stars of the past. Harry Carey, Hoot Gibson, Bob Steele, Tom Tyler, Art Mix, Buzz Barton and others who have been starred independently are in the cast. This studio's "big gun" of the school, however, is Richard Dix, who alternates between films like "The Arizona" and "The Arizona" and more modern pictures.

The westerns are a paradise for old-timers of the screen, with many former stars taking parts. Monte Blue, Raymond Hatton, Anna Q. Nilsson, Pat O'Malley, Al St. John, Kenneth Harlan, Philo McCullough, William Farnum, Bill Desmond and Francis Ford can all be found in supporting casts of the new outdoor romances.

AT SUMMER THEATRES

"Private Lives" Hilarious

Noel Coward's "Private Lives" presented at the Maverick Theatre Thursday evening, and continuing through Sunday, by Robert Elwyn, managing director, drew many final curtain calls from a highly delighted full house. The production ranks with the best presented by the Maverick players and offers the utmost in sophisticated comedy.

The play is based on the marital difficulties of four young people, two of whom are entering upon their second marriage and have arrived with new mates for honeymoons at an identical hotel in France. The couples are Amanda and Victor Pryne (Francesca Lenni and Donald McHenry) and Sibil and Elyot Chase (Harriett Marshall and Stephen Sandes). The action of the play centers about the highly explosive attraction which Elyot Chase and Amanda Pryne hold for each other. They have been divorced three years, the divorce being the outcome of fierce domestic battles. By chance in the first act Elyot and Amanda find themselves in adjoining bridal suites which enjoy the use of the same terrace. Their equally chance meeting upon the terrace causes each to acknowledge the terrifying and stale atmosphere of their respective honeymoons. Again the chemicals fuse and with the fire of their old romance rekindled they desert their mates and flee to Amanda's flat in Paris.

The cast gives the play the glamor which Coward has intended. Perhaps the best performance is that of Miss Francesca Lenni, who is ably supported by Stephen Sandes. Mr. Sandes would do better were he more casual toward his audience in the first act.—R. G.

FUN FOR ALL ALL FOR FUN

On The Radio Day By Day

Time is Eastern Daylight.

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—The voice of President Roosevelt, last heard on the air when he addressed the graduating class at West Point, speaks next to the Boy Scouts and the microphones of NBC and CBS.

The date is August 21 and the occasion is the Boy Scout Jamboree at Washington which his address will welcome. He is to talk from the south portico of the White House at 7 o'clock. Earlier he will review the Scouts, this also to be broadcast.

Other network transmissions also are being planned in connection with the Jamboree.

In view of the new thrice-weekly series in the offing, it now develops that Kate Smith's All-Smith broadcast next Thursday will be the last of her night programs. Probably that's the reason it is to be a Smith program in fact as well as name.

ON THE AIR TONIGHT (FRIDAY):

WEAF-NBC—7:30—Interview of captains Wightman cup teams; 8—Jessica Dragonette; 9:30—E. Madriguera Orchestra; 10:30—New time for Al Pearce; 11:15—Jesse Crawford, Organ; 12—Ben Pollock Orchestra.

He Can Bust Rocks
Greenville, S. C.—Sam Talley, negro, walked into Magistrate Louis E. Smith's office and said he wanted to be sent to the chain gang to get away from his wife.
The chain gang not being designed exactly for such purposes, the magistrate doubted that he could be of any help.
"I nearly busted her in the head," volunteered the distressed husband.
"Lay hands on her?" asked the magistrate.
"Yes, sir," he confessed.
"Thirty days," said the magistrate. Talley said he needed at least 60.

Dogtown Isn't Anymore
Dogtown (old style), Pa.—Hereafter this date line is "Susquehanna Heights." Residents of the community met and so decreed. The original name, according to tradition, was given to the place by hoboes who disliked it because of the numerous canines.

Tinkling Buzzard
Keyser, W. Va.—Somebody put a bell on a buzzard and let it loose. It tinkles nightly over this section, and farmers have been hurrying out on the false fear cattle or sheep have strayed.

Now that they know, they're still hurrying out—with shotguns.
"Meow"—"Cluck"
Tarrytown, Mo.—Here's the day's nature freak story:
Mrs. Frank Leonard's Rhode Island red hen has adopted four tiny white kittens over the protest of the mother cat.
When the hen's eggs were taken away she moved the kittens, born in the same barn, into her nest and snuggled them under her wings.
About once a day she suffers the mother cat to do her parental duty, but when feeding time is over the kittens must come back.
Anyway, that's the story.

Singing For 'Home Folks' Thrills American Veteran Of Paris, Berlin Operas

By ADELAIDE KERIL

Paris (AP)—Suzanne Fisher, young West Virginia songbird, will realize a life's ambition this winter when she steps on the stage of the New York Metropolitan Opera House to sing for "the home folks."

Fifteen years Miss Fisher, who is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, has been studying in Germany and singing at the Berlin Staatsoper and the Opera Comique here. Twice she has had American engagements—once with the Little Theatre Opera Company at New York and once at the Worcester (Mass.) Festival.

But her coming debut at the Metropolitan marks her first engagement with a big opera company "at home," and she is thrilled.

Long Round of Study

Her European career has been one round of learning new roles and languages—sometimes on short notice.

Miss Fisher, brown-eyed and chestnut-haired, has been singing ever since, as a little girl she used to run to the piano, pound out a tune and sing at the top of her voice to keep from crying after she had been punished. She was born in Flatwoods, West Va., moved with her family to Sutton and at seven began her piano lessons there.

She says it is thanks to her mother that she took them seriously, for if she had followed her own inclinations she would have spent more time on "run sheep run" than on serious application to the scale. But with her graduation from high school and her entrance in the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, where they made her begin again with the C major scale, she got down to work in earnest.

Voice an Afterthought

Up to that time no one had given serious thought to her voice, but a friend, hearing her sing, took her to a well known teacher for a try-out and her voice lessons began. Her graduation concert was a song recital.

The following year she taught piano and voice at the Bristow Hardin Conservatory of Music in Norfolk, Va. There another friend insisted she should go to New York and further study and helped her to obtain an audition at the Juilliard Graduate School—an opportunity which she seized when that she didn't even tell her family she was making the attempt.

She says she was badly frightened when she stood up to sing and that the last phrase of her song, "Protect me, Oh God," certainly "came from the heart." She was awarded a three-years fellowship.

Later the Juilliard school sent her as an exchange student to the Berlin Hochschule fuer Musik. She sailed for an eight months' stay and remained five years. A Hochschule concert produced an engagement with the Berlin Staatsoper. She began to study roles and languages so that she might be able to appear on a minute's notice and says she has never really had a summer vacation since.

children from New York.

Mrs. K. Gunsten has returned to her home at Flushing, L. I., after a two-weeks' stay at the Nilssen home.

Services will be resumed as usual on Sunday at the M. D. Church.

Church school at 9 a. m. under the leadership of Oscar Wood. The pastor, the Rev. Roscoe S. Strivings, will bring the message of the morning at 10 a. m. The children of the Sunday school are asked to keep in mind the junior sermon which will be given by the pastor just before the morning message. Children who do not wish to stay during the entire service may leave quietly during the singing of the hymn following the junior sermon. It is hoped a goodly number will be present to welcome the pastor and his family to Stone Ridge after a two-weeks' vacation at Lake Katrine. The Epworth League will convene at 7 p. m. Miss Marna Von Baren will be in charge and speak on the topic, "Stories of Great Hymns of the Church."

Mrs. Henry Field of London, England, is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Hollister Sturges.

Miss Ruth Van Demark is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Raymond Nadal, of Kingston.

Mrs. Charles Lowry is entertaining Miss Regina Anderson of Astoria, L. I.

For those who camp during vacation, nearness of a well-stocked farm where an abundant supply of fruits and vegetables fresh from garden or field can be obtained is a most important asset. Failing in this, ready access to nearby markets and fruit and vegetable stores and good sources of milk and dairy products should be provided.

TWO DIE AS FLOODS SWEEP OVER OHIO

Angry waters claimed two lives in central Ohio as floods continued to take their toll of property damage and human life throughout the United States. Here is a street scene in Washington, O., as firemen left their truck and rescued a family in a nearby community for the occasion. (Associated Press Photo)

American Oil Co.
Big Oil Terminal

Plans have been completed and work has recently started, on what will be one of the largest oil terminals in the Port of Albany. The terminal site, recently purchased by the American Oil Company, covers forty acres in East Greenbush, New York, south of Albany, on Papsinco east, but in a small, private or family. This new plant will be modern in every detail and a great contribution to the importance of the Port of Albany.

the world's largest and most modern refining unit—directly to the terminal when completed. Tankers approximately 450 feet long having a 50 foot beam and carrying about 3,000,000 gallons of American Oil Company products per trip will be used. Construction plans call for a dock and unloading facilities capable of handling the largest tankers.

Food sanitation in a large camp, with modern facilities, is relatively easy, but in a small, private or family camp, resort must be had to Nature's refrigerator. The butter, eggs, milk, fresh fruit and vegetables may be placed in covered containers and lowered into the spring, the brook, the river or even into the open well.

Now is the time to think of your wardrobe for fall. And if you're smart you'll commence right at the top and make yourself this crocheted hat and then the purse to match of course. Simple to make — they are done entirely in single crochet. The hat is a style that goes equally well with dresses and suits. The tilt of the brim gives it that pertness that we all look for — especially in a hat. In the matching purse, the center panel adds contrast by the different direction of the stitches. It is a new smart form especially designed for fall. Both hat and purse are very effective in yarn.

In pattern 5408 you will find directions for making the hat and purse; material requirements; illustrations of the set and of all stitches needed. To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

MENUS OF THE DAY

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Using Fresh Mint

Apple mint jelly blends well with hot or cold meats. It is flavorful and very pretty.

An August Sunday Dinner

Fruit Melon Cocktail
Roast Beef
Buttered Peas
Bread
Cabbage and Potato Salad
Peach Ice Cream
Cocoanut Cookies
Coffee or Iced Tea

Fruit Melon Cocktail
6 rings honey-dew
12 black cherries
8 slices pineapple
Chill all ingredients and arrange on serving plates. Garnish green leaves and sprinkle with 2 table-spoons lime juice.

Apple Mint Jelly
12 cups quartered apples
1 cup chopped mint
5 cups water
Sugar

Wash apples, cut in quarters and remove any imperfections. Apples should not be pared or cored when used for jelly. Add water and cover. Simmer about 30 minutes or until apples are very soft. Pour into jelly bag and let drip. Add mint to juice and simmer 15 minutes. Strain, and for each 4 cups juice add 3 cups sugar. Boil juice and sugar until it "jells" when tested on cold plate. Pour into sterilized jars and seal when cold.

It is advisable to color juice after sugar has been added with green vegetable coloring to give the desired mint tint.

Peach Ice Cream
(With Custard Base)
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 cups milk
1 cup whipped cream
2 cups crushed peaches
2 teaspoons vanilla
Blend sugar, flour and salt. Add eggs and milk. Cook in double boiler until mixture becomes thick and creamy. Cool, add rest of ingredients. Pour into tray in mechanical refrigerator and in about 4 1/2 hours the cream will be stiff enough to serve. The cream can be frozen by regular freezer method.

LIVING-ROOM CURTAINS

material cut for jabot 20"

EASY TO MAKE THESE GRACEFUL DRAPERIES

What's the center of attraction in this delightful room? You've guessed the answer—it's the window with its handsome draped valance, side draperies and jabots.

Choose draperies like these for a room with graceful mahogany or walnut furniture. Make them of moire, damask, satin, or taffeta, which may be bought in inexpensive synthetic fabrics. You'd use this treatment for a wide window, or a group of two or three narrow windows (or, without the jabots, for a single window).

How to Make Valance.

You're thinking that the draped valance looks professional? That's because it hangs from a valance board, 1/2 inch thick and 3 inches wide, cut the width of the window. This board, covered with satine, is held in place above the window with small brackets—like a wooden shelf (see diagram in lower left-hand corner).

To make the valance, start with a piece of shaped buckram (experimenting with paper first to see that the curve and depth are right for the window). Cover buckram with flannel. Cut drapery material 1 1/2 times depth of shaped buckram, allowing 1 inch at each end to turn in. Lay material on buckram foundation in soft folds, and sew firmly in place. Line with satine. To back of valance (1/4 inch down from the top), sew a strip of heavy inch-wide tape. Tack this tape to top and ends of your valance board.

The jabots are simple to make. Cut two pieces of material the shape and size of diagram at left. Fold each one into soft pleats as shown, and tack to top of side drapery; or, if the side curtains are to be drawn at night, tack to under side of the valance. Of course, you'll line the side draperies.

Helpful Booklet.

Our 40-page Home Institute booklet, HAND-MADE FOR THE LIVING-ROOM, shows you how to make linings as well as a number of professional-looking draperies. It takes you step-by-step through the making of:

- Shir Covers
- Curtains with French Headings
- Glass Curtains
- Casement Curtains
- Footstool Covers
- Screens

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Feathers 'turn up' on fall hats.

Liana Merwin

There is little doubt that soft, feminine styles are here to stay for a while, at any rate. The fall millinery showings reflect the softer trend shown in the dress mode. We find soft draping, much shirring, pleating and ruffled surfaces in the newer hats with feathers greatly stressed as trimmings.

Hats for the dinner hour give way to these fashion modes showing an extravagant use of veils, feathers (both of the soft ostrich type and the tailored wings and quills), ribbons and flowers. Velvet, crepe, tulle and metallic fabrics are being adapted to these head moulding bonnets.

The perfectly stunning hat sketched in the panel above has heaps of sophistication in its lines and yet is very demure in a way. It is done in a subtle black crepe that lends itself to the softly draped lines which is the charm of this hat. Delicately placed wings give both height and grace to the wearer.

groups throughout the country are planning to gather in clubhouses and homes to bear one of all of these international broadcasts. Special interest has centered in this year's Festival, due to the large number of American social and musical celebrities who are in attendance.

The program for the Tenth Annual concert, for August 29, will be announced later, according to Mrs. Moore.

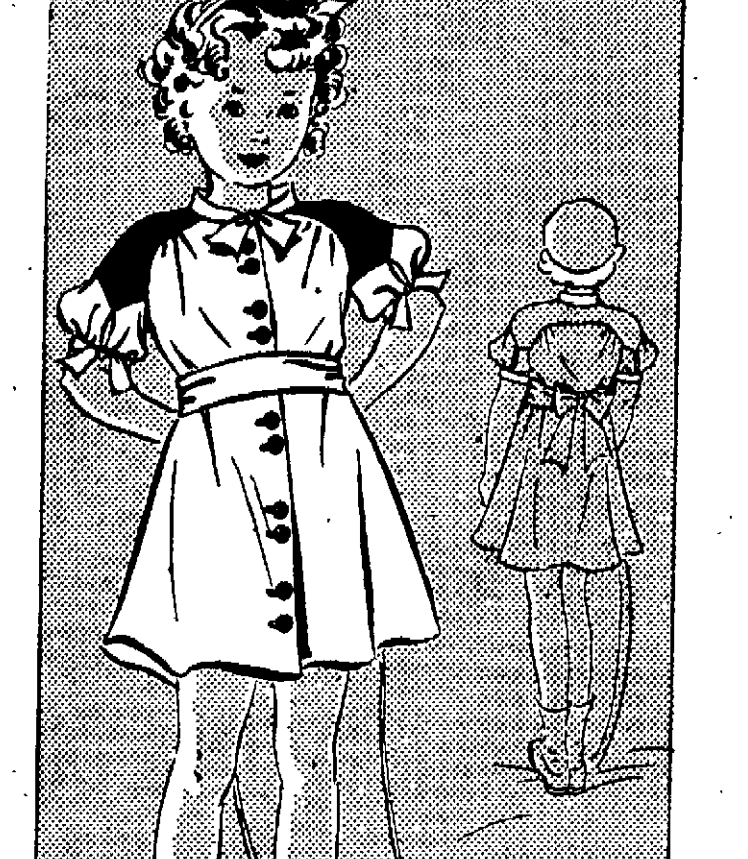

Mr. Moore called to Maryland in NOTHER'S DEATH

City Assessor George W. Moore left Kingston this morning for Eastern Shore, Md., to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, who died at her home there on Thursday. Mr. Moore plans to return to Kingston the latter part of next week.

Such darling little "self-help" dresses are being made for the tiny tots this season.

Today's model is so exceedingly simply cut. It opens down the front which enables a youngster to dress herself.

It is made of a very desirable material—plain gingham in pale and deeper blue. It is so becoming, hard-wearing and has decided smartness.

Style No. 2863 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/4 yards of 39-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1407-B

Sleeping Pajama for the Small Child

Made in one piece, this pajama is buttoned down the back of the waist and at the waistline. The trousers are quite full in back, where they are attached to a neat band, and the side seams are left open for a few inches. The neckline is square in front, and there are short sleeves. And, important item, there is a pocket, which is none other than our friend Br'er Rabbit! This is an exceedingly well-designed garment, plenty of fullness is included for active arms and legs, and for the incurable cover kickers, the long trouser legs afford an adequate covering.

Cotton broadcloth is often used for this garment if it is for summer. For the little girl dainty or lawn is pretty. When nights become cool flannel or challis is preferable.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1407-B is designed in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10. Size 8 requires 2 1/4 yards of 36-inch material.

Daylight Robbery On Wall Street Today

A bold daylight robbery was pulled off on Wall street this afternoon when a thief stole two cases of cigarettes valued at over $100 from one of the delivery trucks of Kustas & Chambers of Poughkeepsie, while the truck was parked at the curb in the business section.

The robbery was discovered by the driver of the truck when he returned to the truck to obtain some goods for delivery to a nearby store.

The cases contained popular brands of cigarettes.

The robbery was reported to Officer Frank H. Fatum and Officer William J. Leonard by the driver of the truck.

Herzog Stops Work On White Plains Plan

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Lester Herzog, state head of the Works Progress Administration, said today that the remodeling of an abandoned high school building in White Plains for use as WPA headquarters had been temporarily held up because he thought suitable quarters might be rented more cheaply.

"I told them they'd better check up again to see whether they couldn't do as well without spending $20,000, the proposed cost of the high school project," Herzog said.

"We don't want to fix up a building when he can rent one more cheaply. It would be foolish to spend $20,000 if we could rent quarters for $15,000."

Work on the project began Wednesday but was stopped Thursday by orders from Albany. The WPA staff of the ninth judicial district planned to use the building, which is in Main street, White Plains. John Buckley Ryan is director for the district.

Mechanics of an Eclipse

Simple, Scientist Says

The mechanics of an eclipse is extremely simple, asserts a scientist in the Montreal Herald. As the moon goes around the earth in a monthly orbit there will be a position in each revolution when the earth will lie between the moon and the sun. As all light comes from the sun, there would be an eclipse of the moon each month if all three bodies were in the same plane. However, the plane of the lunar orbit makes a small angle with the ecliptic, or plane of the earth's orbit, and this angle is large enough to carry the moon above or below the earth's shadow in space on most lunar revolutions. Ordinarily, therefore, when the earth is between the moon and sun, we have just the regular full moon phase. As the lunar orbital plane constantly shifts its position in a periodic manner, we find full moons which occur when the moon is also passing through the ecliptic plane. This produces an eclipse since the earth's shadow is necessarily close to this plane only.

Eclipses of the moon, even total eclipses, do not have the scientific importance of total solar eclipses. They reveal to our sight no important phenomena which are otherwise unseen. The most important observations which astronomers can make at such times are only for the purpose of checking up the predicted and observed times. This enables them to obtain more correct values for the various factors entering the mathematical relations representing the motions of the moon.

Smallest Isolated Group Resides on Midway Island

Perhaps the smallest isolated group of people living under the American flag are the inhabitants of Midway Island. Midway, marking almost the extreme western end of the Hawaiian archipelago, is 1,900 miles from Honolulu. Its inhabitants number less than two dozen and their business is operation of a "repeater" station for the cable between the United States and Asia. Here messages that are flashed under the Pacific have to be "stepped up" to power.

When the station was established Midway's shifting sands between the coral reefs seemed an insecure footing for a cable station. Shrubs and trees had to be planted to bind the sand together. Now the dazzling white sand is covered with a dense thicket. The cable buildings, living quarters and windmills are surrounded by lawns, hedges and flowers. The inhabitants amuse themselves with tennis, golf, fishing, swimming and sailing. There are no automobiles, traffic cops, skyscrapers, smokestacks, subways or hardy gurdies.

Made First Sewing Machine

The first sewing machine was probably made by an Englishman named Thomas Saint, who received a patent on July 17, 1790. Thomas Saint's patent was discovered within recent years by a search among the patent archives of the British Patent office, where it had lain unnoticed for almost a century.

Sharpers Replace Kidnapers When 'Babs' Flees To Europe

Seeks Haven From "Snatch Racket"

Countess Barbara Hardenberg-Reventlow, heiress to the Woolworth "five and dime" millions, is shown with her new husband, Count Haugwitz, as they alighted in Paris from a boat train. The wealthy countess said she intends to live in Europe because she is "afraid of American kidnapers."

By ROGER D. GREENE

London (AP)—In her flight abroad "because," so she says, "I'm afraid of American kidnapers," Countess Barbara Hardenberg-Reventlow, the former Princess Mdjani, nee Barbara Hutton, may find a hornet's nest of menaces to her five-and-dime store millions. "Twill be less violent, perhaps, but not less potent."

Twenty million dollars, as she is reputedly worth, offers a target that Europe's suave "conmen" are just as likely to year after as their more brusque brethren across the Atlantic.

It well may be that after encountering the delicate nuances of blackmail, high-finance swindling and other forms of old world chicanery, the countess will prefer guards to blackguards.

"I am tired of having guards follow me everywhere," she reportedly said, on sailing for Europe with her new husband, the dashing Count Haugwitz.

She will not need them abroad. On her arrival at beautiful old Castle Hardenberg, on the island of Lolland, Denmark, the American heiress said her fears of the "snatch" racket ran like a shadow behind centuries-old moats and grim towers.

England's Record Clean Even without the moats and towers, she will be comparatively safe. A survey of Europe indicates that kidnaping for ransom is strictly an American institution.

Scotland Yard officials pored through musty records for decades back without finding a single instance in England of "the snatch" for ransom as practiced in the United States.

The nearest approach was the seizure of Dr. Sun Yat Sen in London in 1896, but that had a political background. Dr. Sen, having a price of $500,000 on his head following his escape from China. Allegedly kidnaped at the instigation of the Chinese location here, he was released when the venerable Marquis of Salisbury, then foreign secretary, threatened to break into the legation.

As a "big business," kidnaping has never even been attempted in England. Actually, the highest ransom ever demanded, according to available records, was $15, which a hotel kitchen porter demanded for the return of a missing child. He had not kidnaped the child, but sent a threatening letter to the parents when he saw an appeal in the papers.

German Penalties Severe

In Germany kidnaping is a term associated with the United States, except for entirely political kidnaping such as the Herr Jacob "snatch" from Switzerland and other Nazi "raids." Ransom kidnaping has little chance of becoming a "favorite"

BALKAN KIDNAPING PLOTS HAVE ROMANTIC TWIST

Vienna (AP)—A kidnaping game of peculiar local flavor is heard of now and then in the Balkan countries.

Determined lovers sometimes steal girls, usually because the maiden's family objects to the kidnaper as a suitor. Generally there is a happy ending to these affairs, the young man's spunk arousing the admiration of his father-in-law.

In some districts of Albania, where the old custom of buying brides still holds, an impecunious admirer occasionally steals the girl to escape paying from $50 to $100 to her father.

But Countess Barbara Hutton-Mdjani-Reventlow would scarcely be in danger there despite her riches for divorced women are rated far below par in the marriage market.

sport" in the third Reich because the penalties are so drastic that no member of the underworld would think of purloining an heiress.

Moreover, the criminal police of Europe so obligingly exchange information with neighboring countries that it would be folly to attempt to smuggle a "snatch" victim across the border.

In France, Countess Barbara would find much the same safety— from kidnapers, at least. For when the French criminal covets a millionaire's gold he goes after it in more subtle ways.

When practiced at all, the "snatch" in France has usually been for political purposes. The Russian general Alexandre Koutepoff, whose disappearance in 1930 was charged to Soviet secret police, was probably the most famous case.

Opera Bouffie same Ended

In central Europe—Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia—kidnaping for ransom also is unknown. There are sections of the Balkans where it used to be a source of steady income for beribboned brigands of the type made famous in light operas, but the practice has disappeared.

That condition is equally true in Italy, where Mussolini's strict police system has stamped out the Mafia of Sicily and the Camorra of the mainland cities. Those centers preferred the "protection" racket to the "snatch" but used to employ the latter occasionally.

Lapland Snatch Iron To Sweden

Stockholm (AP)—Shipment of iron ore from Lapland mines to the Swedish Grankensberg Mining Company continues to increase. In a recent quarter the output was more than 500,000 tons above the same period in 1934.

Change Made Today In The Tax Measure

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—At least one change in the tax bill passed by the House at President Roosevelt's request was made today by the Senate finance committee.

This was disclosed authoritatively although the committee had voted to keep all decisions secret until it finishes revamping the measure.

Conservatives have indicated they are determined to reduce some of the new and increased rates the bill contains. Senator LaFollette (Pro-Wis.) has expressed determination to broaden the base of its individual income tax levies in an attempt to bring in millions more in revenue.

Chairman Harrison declined to answer all questions of newspapermen after the committee's morning meeting. To divulge decisions before completing the task might bring "pressure" from groups to change them, he said.

Another meeting was called for late today. Harrison said he hoped the committee would finish its work on the bill by tomorrow night.

It was reported experts had been instructed to prepare some new tentative rate schedules.

Poultrymen Eligible In Pullet Campaign

The poultry committee of the Ulster County Farm Bureau is offering a series of lessons on pullet management to all poultrymen free of charge. This series of letters will include timely hints and suggestions on the selection, care and management of pullets. Poultrymen may enroll by sending or leaving their name and address at the Farm Bureau Office, 74 John street.

Some poultrymen have already housed early pullets but most men will start doing this during the next month or six weeks. The lessons, for the information of poultrymen while starting a pullet flock, are prepared by poultry specialists of the New York State College of Agriculture.

Brode Boy's Body Borne Down Peak

Monarch Lake, Colo., Aug. 8 (P).—From storm-whipped Lindbergh Peak where he fell to death Tuesday, the broken body of William Brode, 15, son of a distinguished southern family, was borne down treacherous trails on a packhorse after dawn.

The health advice of most doctors is to tell you to take up golf; but if you already play it, they'll tell you to give it up.

Whichever it is, you can always sell the old set at a good price or buy a good outfit at a bargain through the Freeman Want Ads!

lighted the mountains today. Weary searchers conquered storms and slippery trails and at the bottom of the peril-studded descent brought the boy's body to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julien Brode, of Memphis, Tenn.

The Brodes arrived just as Baker Armstrong, of Houston, Tex., discovered the sandy-haired, blue-eyed lad's body in a granite crevasse near the summit of the two-mile high peak.

With the 50-hour quest among the crags ended, searchers lowered the body by ropes 1,000 feet from the perilous ledge to another and placed it on the packhorse.

Selma Almfelt Discharged.

New York, Aug. 8. (Special).—An order discharging Selma J. Almfelt, nurse, of 153 Wall street, Kingston, from bankruptcy was signed in United States District Court by Judge Murray Hulbert. The Kingston resident filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition and schedules on April 8, listing liabilities of $9,767 and assets of $9,980. The principal liability was $7,300 in a secured claim held by the HOLC on the property at 153 Wall street.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kilmer of Ruby a son, Denis Lee, at the Benedictine Hospital, August 8. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of High Falls a daughter, Lourette Helen, at the Benedictine Hospital, August 3.

Kingston Selected As Roosevelt to Rest From Official Cares

In today's advertising columns will be found announcement of the opening on Saturday of a new specialty shop in Kingston, John Phillips, Inc., occupying the store at 280 Fair street, formerly occupied by the Curtin Shop. The store has been completely overhauled, redecorated and new fixtures installed, the work being done by Kingston firms; the entrance and display windows have also been remodeled.

The new shop will specialize in curtains, cotton dresses, piece goods and domestic linens, carrying a moderately priced line of goods.

Pearce Wieders of New York, a member of the corporation, is opening the store and will run it for a month or so, following which a local manager will be installed. Mr. Wieders says that this will be the first of a chain of 20 similar stores, locations for which have been selected in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He added that following a survey lasting for nearly two months and covering over 100 towns, Kingston was selected as the site for the first, or key store, as being the city which most completely answered business requirements and gave the most promise.

While this will be one of a chain of stores, it will be distinctively a local store, said Mr. Wieders. It will have a local manager and local people will be engaged as clerks. He continued, "It will feature moderately priced merchandise, truthfully advertised. As a specialty shop it should be able to give better choice and values than stores which carry a general stock. There will be no misrepresentation of goods sold and we will appreciate frank comments from patrons on the types of merchandise we are carrying and our pricing. We wish to know what the public wants and what is thought of our goods. Customers at the opening Saturday will be given a special inducement.

SOMEONE SET FIRE TO UNOCCUPIED BUNGALOW

An unoccupied bungalow on the banks of the Esopus creek in the rear of 195 Albany avenue, owned by S. Abramowitz, was discovered on fire shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. The fire department responded to a telephone call and found that someone had started a fire in one corner of one of the rooms. The fire was extinguished with chemicals. Vandals have done considerable damage to the bungalow recently and it is thought that the ones who have been damaging the building also set fire to it.

Clam bake Held.

A clam bake was held at "The Devil's Lake" Sunday, August 4, by Mr. and Mrs. Prunel. Games were played and also singing and dancing. Those that were sent were Mr. and Mrs. Prunel and family; Mr. and Mrs. Augustine and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ryndak and family; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bulbitt and son, Andy; Miss Thelma Tasilo and Benny Zakowewski from Connecticut.

Washington, Aug. 9 (P).—Seeking relaxation after a busy week of conferences, President Roosevelt put aside affairs of state to leave late this afternoon for a week-end fishing trip.

He invited a party of friends to accompany him. They will board the government yacht Sequoia at Annapolis, Md., tonight for a cruise down Chesapeake Bay.

The President still is keeping in mind a longer trip—to the Pacific coast to attend the San Diego exposition. But the exact time depends upon the adjournment of congress.

White House attaches say Mr. Roosevelt intends to remain here for at least a week after adjournment to put into operation the social security program and other measures.

Then it appears more than likely he will visit his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., before turning westward.

If this plan is adhered to, it probably will be late September before Mr. Roosevelt starts for the coast.

CHANCE FOR KINGSTON BOYS TO EARN MONEY

If they get busy right away there is a chance for the boys of Kingston who like to do things with their hands and have a mind for architecture or the building of houses to earn a neat little sum of money.

On September 11, The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs will hold a flower show and fall festival at the Municipal Auditorium and at that time money prizes will be given by the Kingston Cooperative Savings and Loan Association in the interest of the "Better Homes" movement, for the best miniature houses built by boys of this community.

Here's what has to be done to win the prizes.

Boys not over 18 years of age producing the best miniature houses will be awarded a first prize of $15; a second prize of $10, and a third prize of $5, from the Building and Loan Association.

The houses must be constructed of durable material and finished completely, exactly as a full sized house in which one lives is finished. It may be of any design.

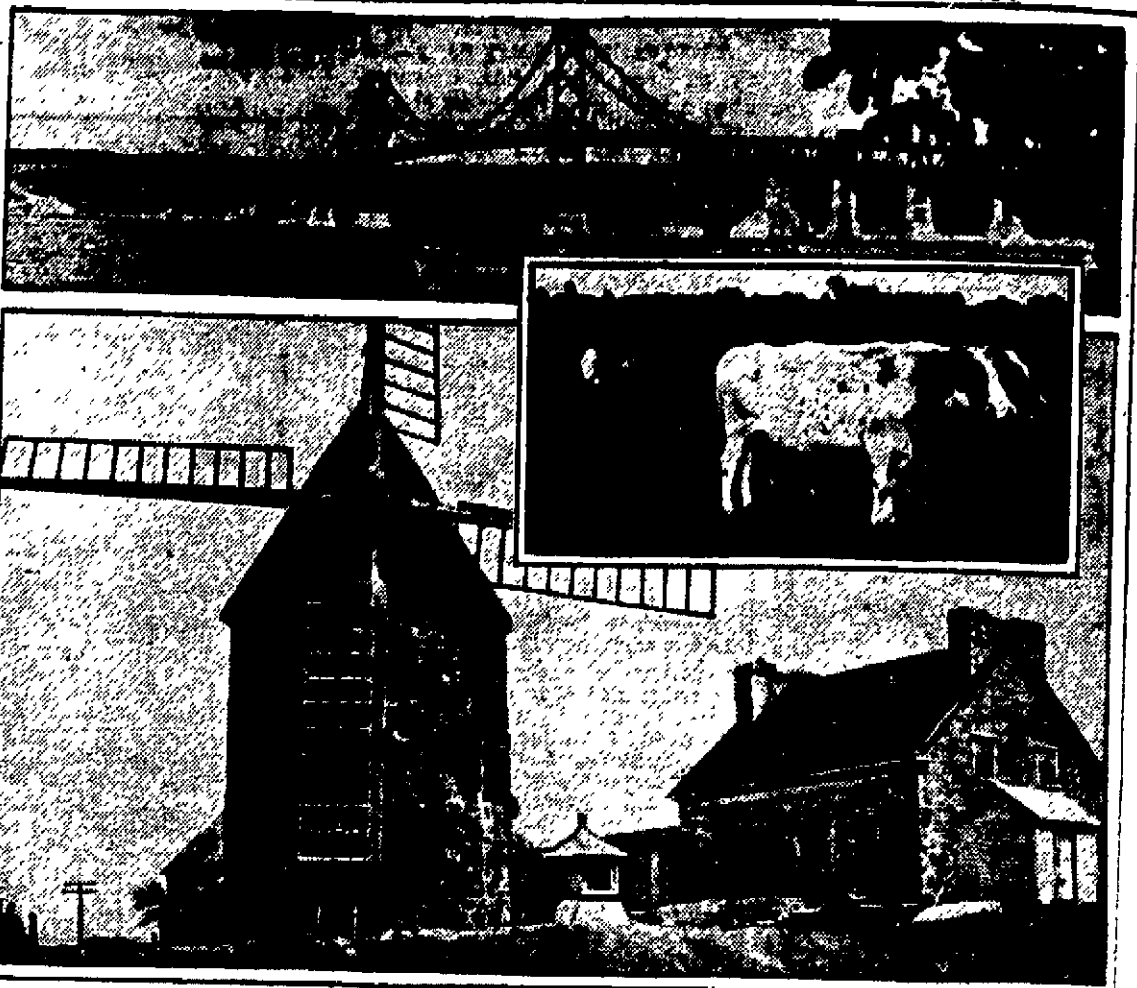

Each youth exhibiting such a house must first register with Mrs. Fred P. Luther, president of the federation, 50 Downs street and obtain from her the necessary set of rules to go by.

Furthermore boys under 14 years of age who exhibit houses according to rules will receive from the Federation of Women's Clubs awards as follows: First prize, $5; second prize, $3; third prize, $2.

It is agreed that houses for both classes are to be retained by the Building and Loan Association for exhibition purposes for a period of two weeks after the show and then they will be returned to the winners in each class. All houses finished for exhibition must be entered with Mrs. Luther not later than September 4, and on the evening of the flower show, September 11, the awards will be made.

Italy seems to have millions for new military ventures but not a cent for payment on account.

"LOST ATLANTIS OF THE ST. LAWRENCE" TO END 400 YEARS OF ISOLATION FROM MODERN WORLD

Like a lost Atlantis rising from the St. Lawrence River, the picturesque Ile d'Orleans this summer is ending four centuries of isolation. A double celebration is marking the 400th anniversary of the discovery of Orleans by Jacques Cartier, founder of New France, and is hailing opening of a new 2,370-foot span linking to old Quebec City the hitherto self-contained little "continent" with its mossy mills, ancient customs, and scenic beauty. Above, the new bridge. Below, ancient windmill and stone house typical of Quebec's old French civilization. Inset, Orleans farmer at work in the fields with his oxen.

QUEBEC CITY, Que.—Like a lost Atlantis rising from the waters of the mighty St. Lawrence, thrusting intact into the 20th century world a civilization obscured for centuries, the Ile d'Orleans this summer is ending four hundred years of isolation.

An island 22 miles long in the St. Lawrence opposite this city, the Ile d'Orleans boasts six parishes and 4,000 inhabitants who daily see the towers and battlements of Quebec silhouetted against the western sky yet have shown through generations no more desire to mesh their peaceful lives with the gears and gadgets of the machine age than if the spires were fairy castles in the summer sunset.

But this year the self-contained little "continent" is being linked to the Quebec shore, for a 2,370-foot bridge is now nearing completion, replacing the ferryboats which for centuries have shuffled across the arm of the river.

For centuries Orleans has been tranquil in its aloofness, but now it is stirring and this summer the populace is observing a gala double celebration, dedicating the span and commemorating the 400th anniversary of the island's discovery by Jacques Cartier. The seaman of St. Malo, sailing up the St. Lawrence on his second voyage to New France, established in 1535 the first contact with the island he named Bacchus.

The new bridge will make accessible to the thousands of American tourists who visit Quebec each summer, a land where time has stood still. Scores of farms on the Ile d'Orleans are worked by descendants of the original French crown grantee, and cultivated by their forefathers' methods. Survivals of pre-Napoleonic French customs are found here, along with white-wheeled carts, yoked oxen, and mossy masonry.

The ancient stone windmill towers of Orleans and the white-washed, green-shuttered manors with quaint peaked roofs have long interested antiquarians and architectural authorities, but now with the completion of the bridge the Orleans landscape will be viewed by motorists travelling the forty-mile highway which circles the island and connects with the new span. These newcomers will follow in the footsteps of early Quebec aristocrats who sought seclusion on the Ile d'Orleans, just as centuries before the early Roman emperors started the first tourist rush to the Isle of Capri.

Although the humble "habitant" of Orleans are only now ready to welcome the outside world, their existence long has been advertised by home products which have reached the other shore and are much favored by connoisseurs. Strawberries from the Ile d'Orleans have a delectable flavor of their own, and so does the island's distinctive cheese, with a flavor akin to Brie.

Dairymen Spill N.R.S.C., 11-5, And Climb Out of the Cellar

The North Rondout Social Club dropped its fifth consecutive game in the second half of the City League at the Athletic Field, Thursday evening. The score was 11 to 5 and it was Jones' Dairymen who administered the lacing this time. Both teams were striving to get out of the cellar as neither team had won a game in the second half and it was a case of one or the other taking permanent possession of the lowly position. The Dairymen still have another game to play but regardless of the outcome will be on top of the Rondouters for they were making their last City League appearance of the season.

Big Joe Mahar was the winning pitcher. He was wobbly at times but after the third inning when the Dairymen staged a big rally he had nothing to worry about. Three pitchers opposed Mahar. Mitchell started, Tomasek followed and De Cicco finished.

With the exception of Gadd all of the starting Dairymen pined at least one hit. Lamb garnered three, while Bob Purvis manufactured a home run.

After being held scoreless for two innings the Dairymen broke out in the third inning and before the season was over scored six runs, enough to win. Mahar drew a pass to start Lamb followed with a neat two-bagger to right field and then Purvis fashioned his homer, result three runs. Nardi and Carr kept the merry-go-round going by poking singles through the infield. Immediately after Carr's hit they executed a double steal and Nardi tallied. Hanley also drew a pass. Mitchell uncorked a wild pitch and Carr scored. Hanley took third on an infield out and registered on Scherer's single to center field.

Three more runs were added to the Dairymen's total in the fourth in the last frame they registered twice.

The Rondouters scored one in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and one in the fifth.

The score:

GAME TONIGHT

Hercules Powdermen and the Crystal Beauty Shoppe meet at the Athletic Field this evening at 6:15.

Both teams are still in the race for second half honors, but a loss for either will just about eliminate it.

As it stands both teams have won two against one loss. The league-leading Berardis have won three without a setback, while Formosa, who hold down second place, have won three with one defeat.

Warren Shackett, big right-hander from Saugerties, will do the hurling for the Hairdressers; Joe Hoffman the receiving.

The Powdermen have two southpaw pitchers, Eddie Scherer and Jimmy Martin, they can call on with Martin most likely to get the nod. Al Short will do the catching.

GAMES FOR NEXT WEEK

After tonight's game there will be three games left to complete the half and they will be played next week as follows:

Tuesday—Berardi A. C. vs. Formosa.

Wednesday—Jones' Dairy vs. Crystal Beauty Shoppe.

Friday—Hercules vs. Berardi A. C.

Knitting Mills Wins Fourth Straight Game

The Kingston Knitting Mills, newly organized softball team, chalked up their fourth win in as many games last night at Terry's Field when they defeated the Mush-room planters by the count of 7-5.

Next week the winners will take on a tough assignment when they stack up against one of the City League teams at Haverbrook Park.

Skeet Teams Finish 2nd Round of August Match At Co. Gun Club

Eight members of each of the skeet teams finished the second round of the August match at the Ulster County Gun Club Thursday.

The highest scratch scores were made by H. C. Osterhout and S. Hyatt, each scoring 22 breaks. These two shooters also had high handicap scores for the day of 25.

The Ulster Co. Gun Club will hold its third Registered Shoot of the season on Sunday, August 11.

The Wittenberg Club will hold a prize shoot at Yonketown Pond Saturday.

A team shoot is being arranged by the New Paltz Gun Club to be held in connection with their clam bake Wednesday, August 14.

The Ulster County Gun Club will enter a team for this event.

Twenty shooters were at the skeet field Thursday afternoon and 1,200 targets were thrown.

Wittenberg Sportsmen Trapshoot Saturday

Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will hold a trapshoot on the range at the Yonketown pond. The public is invited to attend. There will be prizes offered in competition. All highways leading to the range are in excellent condition.

New members initiated into the club at the Wednesday evening meeting were Kenneth Brooks, New York theatrical man, and Harrison Gridley, of Shady, chief Republican committeeman of Woodstock township.

Refreshments will be on sale at the clubhouse during the trapshoot.

All Star Lineup To Meet Allentown Sox

Due to the fact that several of the Beauty Shoppe regulars will be in Saugerties on Monday night playing against the Canadian Clowns an all star lineup will take on the Allentown Red Sox at the Kingston Fair Grounds. Game time will be 6 p. m.

Frankie Bruno or Babe Volker will be assigned to mound duty with Joe Hoffman behind the platter. The infielders will be Eddie Burgevin, Chappie Van Derzee, Charlie Lay and Charlie Tiano. Asciendo, Joyce, Mac Tiano and Tommie Maines will be available for the outer garden.

Fararo, Francello and Russo will also be on the squad.

Other games listed by the Beauty Shoppe include the Paterson Colored Giants on August 16 and the Washington Stars on August 19. The Stars are the independent negro champions. All contests will start at 6 p. m.

Moose Softball Team Defeats Forst by 6-3

The Moose softballers defeated the highly rated Forst team last night by the score of 6-3.

Ken Newell, on the slab for the winners, allowed six hits and kept the meat packers well in check.

D. Brooks, Fabiano and Smedes garnered two bingles apiece while E. Newell handled 10 chances without a miscue.

Batteries for the Moose was K. Newell and Smedes while Dawkins and Wood worked for the losers.

Tomorrow night the Moose will cross bats with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric outfit at Berman's Lot at 6:30 o'clock.

Apple Knockers Take A.D. Rose Team, 5-2

With Art Kaplan leading them over, the Old Catskill Apple Knockers smashed the A. D. Rose outfit for a 5-2 win last night.

The Knockers garnered all their five runs in the third inning when they effectively bunched four of their six hits off Don Hyatt.

Chilton led the attack for the winners with a single and a homer, while McElrath hit two singles for the losers.

THE KINGFISH BEGS FOR MERCY

It took Joe Louis just two minutes and 21 seconds to make King Levinsky plead for mercy when they clashed at Chicago. Here is the Kingfish on the ropes, after being floored three times, as he appealed to the referee to stop the barrage of murderous blows. Crowd was stunned by the sudden end of the fight. (Associated Press Photo.)

HE'S ACTUALLY ON HIS FEET

But King Levinsky didn't stay there long when he met Joe Louis in Chicago. Shortly after this action picture of Levinsky staying off the inevitable was taken, the Kingfish started bouncing off the canvas under the Brown Bomber's lethal blows. Fight ended after two minutes and 21 seconds.

Red Rain!

Doesn't that name have the ring of a thoroughbred racing champion? At any rate it's a swell name to remember, for there is every indication that it is one that turf enthusiasts will be mentioning frequently in the next couple of years.

All spring we have been hearing glowing rumors of the whirlwind of a two-year-old that was being groomed for the races by the Brookdale stud.

As a yearling this son of Pennant-Dustmeal showed amazing speed and ran away from his young stable mates.

It is no wonder then that his owner, Cornelius V. Whitney, as well as his trainer, Tom Healy, considered this colt a prospective champion ever since the day they first saw him work out. They have even gone on record as believing that Red Rain would prove the fastest horse ever to come out of the famed Brookdale stud.

And that's saying a lot when you consider that such a recommendation means that he is expected to outdo the deeds of great runners like Bo-Jum, Whitehorse and Equipoise. A mighty large order for even a son of the great Pennant.

Midway Delay Debut

Red Rain's racing debut was delayed this season by a series of unfortunate accidents until the opening day at Saratoga when he was turned loose in the Flash stakes. He showed an amazing turn of speed in the spring workouts only to suffer a back strain just before he was to make his bow. When they mended and he was about to make his first start he hurt himself in the starting gate while being schooled to the machine, and went back to the hospital.

Back in training he flashed even greater speed and as a result of the speedy time trials he turned in word got around that he was certain to prove a world beater. Professional clockers insisted that he was the fastest colt that they had timed in years.

In his first competition Red Rain proved very even as far as racing knowledge was concerned but he left no doubt in the minds of the thousands who saw him with the Flash stakes that he had race speed and looked as though he could carry it for a distance.

On the strength of his showing in the Flash stakes he was scheduled to race on the opening day of the season.

BOUNCING OFF THE CANVAS

A dark cloud of menace, Joe Louis, Detroit's "Brown Bomber," hovers over King Levinsky after smashing him to the floor for the second time in their one-round fight at Chicago. It was literally no contest, with the Louis' murderous assault.

It became the most discussed colt of the season and probably no thoroughbred since Man of War was shown with the praise heaped on the beautiful juvenile.

He's Got "It"

Red Rain is a picture colt. A beautiful chestnut, with perfect conformation, he has that touch of class which sets him apart from the field even before the field gets under way. You can bet that the colt will be brought along with extreme care and while he is being educated for the Nippon and the Belmont Futurity will be with one eye on next season when his work will be put out for him as a three-year-old.

By winning the Wilson stakes and running his spring of victories to sea, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery strengthened his claim to training with the greatest thoroughbreds of all time. Carrying 127 pounds, Discovery covered the mile in 1:37 1-5 to crown the late Sir Henry, Chicago, 203, 30 minutes.

Joe Louis Is Now the Outstanding Battler In the Heavyweight Ranks

Jacobs Auctioneer As Rival Factions Bid for Louis-Baer

Chicago, Aug. 9 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs turned auctioneer today for a 10-day stand with one of the greatest fight card naturals since the era of the million dollar gates under his hammer.

Jacobs' prize article on the block was the Max Baer-Joe Louis fight, to be held September 26 or 27. The bidding was lively with sportsmen and promoters from New York and Chicago awed out to bring the fight to their city.

New York, represented by the Twentieth Century Club, was a slight favorite although Chicago, led by the Sporting Club of Illinois, a new organization headed by several millionaires, still had a big chance. Jacobs said money would do the talking and that he would not accept either bid for 10 days.

"The club making the best offer will be given the match," Jacobs said. "Naturally, the managers of Baer and Louis will have something to say about picking the site, but the final decision rests with me."

It was a bit confusing as to which city the two managers, John Roxboro of the Louis faction and Ancil Hoffman, manager for Baer, preferred. Both told Chicago newspapers they preferred Chicago with Soldier Field as the site, yet Hoffman left last night for Newark, N. J., to meet Baer and look over a probable camp site at Secaucus, N. Y.

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—There no longer can be the least doubt in the minds of the fight followers that Joe Louis "has it," meaning that he has the punch and the all-around ring qualifications to become the next world's heavyweight champion—if and when he gets the chance.

Solely on his record, the brown bomber is an absolute standout in the heavyweight ranks. He is the hardest hitter since Jack Dempsey and apparently a better finisher.

If Louis disposes of Max Baer in a match virtually certain to take place at New York's Polo Grounds on September 26, there will remain not the slightest question as to the logical challenger of the title held by James J. Braddock.

Just how, when and where Braddock and Louis might be brought together for the first mixed title fight since Jess Willard knocked out Jack Johnson at Havana 20 years ago remains a subject for the ballyhoo birds to warble about.

Braddock is under contract to Madison Square Garden. Louis is tied up with the Mike Jacobs-20th Century-Milk Fund combination.

The consensus among fight experts is that Louis will beat Baer decisively, whether or not the Californian regain something approaching the form that carried him to the top. The feeling is that Baer, a rugged but wild swinger at best, is made to order for the brown bomber's short-range fire.

It's the logical match, by far the best drawing card boxing has had in prospect since the golden era, and the one remaining chance to give Louis a real test this year. It can draw a "gate" of close to $750,000.

Everyone, including Baer, himself, knows the clowning Californian can "take it." Max is the kind of a fighter likely to prove most dangerous when hurt.

So far "Jarring Joe" has not had to worry about being in a tough spot. His opponents have been too busy defending themselves to do much else.

Shields And Wood Meet In Semi-finals

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Two heroes of former Davis cup days, big game Frank Shields and slender Sidney Wood, found each other stumbling blocks today in the eastern grand courts tennis championships.

Shields, on vacation from the film studios of Hollywood, and Wood, fresh from Europe where lack of confidence kept him out of the Davis cup debacle, opposed each other in the semi-final round of the men's single.

The winner was favored to win the title.

In the other bracket were paired a couple of possible Davis cup hopes, Frankie Parker of Springfield, N. J., and Wee Bites Grant of Atlanta, national clay courts champion.

Shields dropped a love set to Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., 6-2, 6-6, 6-1, in a comedy of foot fault.

Wood, off to a shaky start, finally loosed a streak of unbreakable shots to down Hal Surace of Kansas City, 6-4, 6-2.

Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., top seeded and national champion, ranked at No. 4, and Katherine Winthrop of Boston, seeded fourth, were unexpected losers yesterday in the women's play that brought Mrs. Mary Greer Harris of Kansas City, He c and Mrs. Agnes Lamme of Rye, N. Y., into the final round, to be played Saturday.

Mrs. Harris beat Mrs. Andrus 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, and Mrs. Lamme eliminated Miss Winthrop, 6-2, 6-2.

Don Budge and Gene Mako, young stars of the Davis cup squad, and Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, cup doubles team, played two matches each to advance in the doubles competition.

Wightman Cup Team Minus Mrs. Moody

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—Faced with a bitter struggle to retain the Wightman cup without the services of Helen Wills Moody, the United States has drawn up its strongest available forces for defense of the international women's tennis trophy against the British at Forest Hills August 16 and 17.

Representing the home forces will be Helen Jacobs, three times national champion; Sarah Palfrey Babcock of Brookline, Mass.; Carolyn Eichel of Los Angeles; Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn.; Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold of San Francisco; and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, donor of the cup the United States defended successfully in England last year for the fourth straight time, will be non-playing captain.

The lineup will not be disclosed until the draw Wednesday.

Married Men Defeat Singleites By 7-3

In the first of a three-game series of softball the married men of the Sixth Ward Social Club defeated the single boys last night at Haverbrook Park by 7-3.

Sam Houghaling and John Smith formed the winning battery while James Gorman and John Ryland worked for the losers. There was a large crowd of fans on hand to cheer their respective husbands and boy friends.

The second game will be played next week at Haverbrook Park.

Donkey Baseball Success At Highland

Highland, Aug. 9.—The donkey baseball game sponsored by the Lions Club and played on the P-T-A field Wednesday evening, with members of the hose company was a decided success and brought out all the laughs promised. There was not a long time in which to advertise the game but at that nearly 1,000 persons were on hand to witness the play.

Charles Schmidt, of the Lions Club, had worked out a plan to stage the affair and get the players and to him much credit is due. Nearly 800 tickets were sold and the Lions Club will clear about $90. This sum is used for civic objects, such as the Boy Scouts, milk fund, eyeglasses, teeth, etc., as need is made known to them.

Dr. Salvatore, president of the club, has further plans for making Highland better known and it is with appreciation of what has been done and continued support that this will be possible. The Lions Club members who took part were Harry Weezenan, Dr. C. P. Meekins, Karl Kisor, John Mack, Walter Seaman, W. H. Maynard, Charles Schmidt, George Muller, Tony Aiello, LeGrand Hartland, Jr., Irving Rathgeb, Michael Nardone. Hose company members who rode donkeys, Ralph Lyons, Robert Muller, Jack Parks, Fred Decker, James Donovan, Theodore Maroldt, Hobart Kurtz, Frank Relyea, Harold Arnold. The score was a tie, 4-4.

It was the opinion of the riders that razor backed streamlined donkeys offer no inducements in the category of pleasure, let alone to play ball and coaxing them to carry one around the bases to home plate. The donkey outfit played at Saugerties on Tuesday night and left here for Ellenville.

Cornell-Rescue Beats Battery A By 8-1

Last night at Block Park the Cornell-Rescue Independents defeated the 155th Field Artillery, Battery A, 8-1, in the last inning by scoring eight runs.

"Coke" Costello, pitching for the soldiers, had a no hit game up till the last inning when Woods was called safe at first on a close decision. This was the beginning of the 8 run rally. The soldiers had held the lead up to the point by the score of 1 to 0.

Vogel and Woods formed the battery for the C. & R. team. Last night's game was the third win this week for the team.

Tonight the C. & R. team will play the Ferry outfit at Block Park. This game will follow one played by Forst's Formost team and the Rapids.

Chevrolets Defeat Telcos By 11-5 Score

With Johnnie Dorle on the mound, the Chevrolets blasted the Telcos by 11-5 last evening at Forsyth Park in a league game.

At the end of the second inning the teams were deadlocked at 5 all but from this point on Dorle held the telephone boys well in check and they failed to score for the remainder of the game.

The winners garnered 15 hits off Hutton and Johnnie Dorle and Ben Toffel led the attack. Both with two doubles and two singles and T

Unionists In New York
Prepare To Call 15,000 Workers From Posts

New York, Aug. 9 (AP).—Launching a strike movement which threatens to encompass other large cities, union representatives today made flying visits to call 10,000 to 15,000 skilled workers away from Works Progress Administration jobs in protest against the government's security wage.

The exact extent of the strike, and the number of union workers responding to the call could not be estimated early.

A "sitting tight" policy was proclaimed by General Hugh S. Johnson, New York administrator of the WPA. He had been in communication with members of his organization at various projects, he said, and had been told of the action of union officials in enlisting laborers.

"I intend to sit tight and see what happens," he said.

Regarding the possibility of the strike spreading to other parts of the country, the former NRA head declared: "I am concerned with New York city only. The WPA program is not in operation in other parts of the country."

In defiance of warnings cast by General Johnson and Harry L. Hopkins, national head of WPA, George Meany, president of the state Federation of Labor, declared:

"Our people are going out to stop union men on the job. They will continue to do so until further notice."

The unionists protest that the security wage of $33.50 a month paid skilled workers would be seized upon by private employers as an excuse to lower wages.

Hopkins warned that those who walked away from their jobs would be speedily replaced, and that the strikers must look to city and state agencies for relief.

General Johnson, in a fiery plea to labor delegates last night, told them they were the "cheatnut rakers of contractors and Communists."

At Atlantic City, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, predicted spreading of the walk-out, adding that his organization was assuming a hands-off policy, and was not interfering with the strike action of local unions.

At General Johnson's office, it was said that the strike had completely halted work on but one project in the city—the Astor slum clearance work.

Music Festival At Stockbridge

By PAUL MONTAGU STURGES

(Special to The Freeman)

Stockbridge, Mass., Aug. 9.—Something of the magnificence of Salzburg, Europe's musical center, took place last night near this village famous for its cultural background and rich in the early history of the country as a rendezvous for the beginning of American literature.

On the Hanna farm, located on the road between Stockbridge and Lenox, over 3,000 people gathered to attend the opening of the second Berkshire Annual Symphonic Festival. Out unclad the stars and the half-moon the huge audience heard Dr. Henry Hadley conduct the orchestra of 85 musicians and Horace Hunt direct a mixed chorus of 200 voices from the Berkshire Musical Association.

A major step in the building up of a new, conscious America, the festival promises to give this country as great a festival as the famous one at Salzburg.

Max Reinhardt, producer of "Everyman" and "Faust," sent the following cable from Salzburg, Austria: "Salzburg in the Old World salutes Salzburg in the New and extends greetings to the Berkshire Symphonic festival and Godspeed."

Their excellencies, Governor Curley of Massachusetts and Governor Green of Rhode Island gave official recognition to the concert by occupying the official box.

The program opened with Bach's Fugue in D Minor which was followed by Wagner's Choral from Die Meistersinger. These were followed by the famous coronation scene from "Boris Godunov" by Moussourghsky. The solo was rendered by Richard Hale, baritone. Other numbers were four passages from Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Bach's St. Matthew Passion, and a composition in four movements of Beethoven, the "Eroica."

Lovers of music from all over the eastern part of the country are attending this festival which opened last night and continues with concerts Saturday and Sunday evenings. Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt is attending on Saturday. Dr. and Mrs. George F. Chandler, formerly of Kingston and now at Forest Hills, Long Island, were present.

Farm Bureau Radio Program Saturday

Governor W. I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration and Morris L. Cooke, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, will be heard during the American Farm Bureau Federation radio hour on Saturday, August 10. This will be broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company's network starting at 1:30 p. m. It is during the period usually filled by the National Farm and Home hour. Nearby stations included are WJZ, WBZ and WBZA. Both Mr. Myers and Mr. Cooke are outstanding national figures in their respective fields. Both men will speak from Washington, although the remainder of the program originates in Chicago. Governor Myers will discuss "Financial Relief for Agriculture." Mr. Cooke will speak on "Rural Electrification and the Farm Bureau."

toward the ferry landing, specially so much as has been affected by the construction of the new sewer in that village.

Wawarsing

The necessary repaving and replacement of a new surface on the abandoned state road but now on the county road map in the village of Napanoch.

Hardenbergh and Denning
The application of bituminous materials to the surface of the gravel roads constructed in those towns.

Gardiner

The placing of a new surface on the road running from Gardiner toward the Wallkill State prison and from the state road in Ganghote and running toward Galeville in the town of Shawangunk.

Saugerties

The placing of a new surface on the county road running from Asbury to the Greene County line and the retreading of a portion of the Mt. Marion road.

New Paltz

The resurfacing of a portion of the county road running from Ohioville to the Clintonville Cold Storage.

Shandaken

Much needed repairs to the county road running through Woodland Valley, made necessary by developments resulting from floods.

Rosendale

The construction of the connecting link between Rosendale village and Blinnwater station, which work would eliminate not only a very dangerous road condition but would also eliminate a very dangerous railroad crossing at relatively little expense.

Woodstock

The placing of macadam on the graded portion of the county road running between Wittenberg and Mt. Tremper.

Plattekill

The application of a bituminous top on the gravel road running from the state road near Modena to the White Cross Creamery crossing.

And other projects which would have meant so much to the benefit of the towns affected and which I felt could be carried on within the amount of the appropriation for which I asked but which was rejected by your Board of Supervisors. The allocation of moneys mentioned in the statement calling for maintenance and in the statement of county roads proposed to be constructed, which I prepared and submitted to your Board under the duties placed upon me as county superintendent of highways by subdivision 2 of section 320-B of the Highway Law, I sincerely felt and do now feel, would be to the best interest of the whole county. However, since you have refused to sign and thereby approve of any statement making available any moneys for maintenance, without approval on my part of the construction program, I am respectfully submitting the whole program as sponsored by you. This I am doing solely in the interest of relieving the unemployment situation in the county and to enable me in so far as the $25,000.00 maintenance moneys will go to take care of the acute and dangerous conditions in the county road system in this county requiring immediate attention.

The necessary copies of the statement covering the $25,000.00 maintenance moneys, I assume are still in your possession as you did not return them to me after I forwarded the same to you some time ago, with a request that you sign the same.

I would ask that you affix your signature, have the clerk of the board affix his signature upon the necessary forms and return to me.

Big Service Station

John Van Benschoten of Poughkeepsie, owner of the row of one-story buildings at 625-629 Broadway, adjoining the ERS headquarters, is planning to erect a modern super-service gas station and show room, on the site.

The work of razing the present buildings on the site was started this morning.

During the Canfield administration the city purchased this row of small buildings in anticipation of the elimination of the Broadway railroad crossing, but as nothing developed the city finally disposed of the buildings at a public sale.

Today's Cable Briefs By Associated Press

Copenhagen, Denmark — Count Court Von Haugwitz-Reventlow says his bride, the former Barbara Hutton whose divorced husband, Prince Alexis Mdivani, died recently in an automobile accident, has been very depressed. The Danish count said the American heiress' nerves have been "completely broken down" by recent events.

Geneva—Japan officially accepted today invitations to continue to be represented on the League of Nations commissions on opium and child welfare. The acceptance was made on condition that this participation in the league work would not affect Japan's position as a non-member of the league.

Tokyo—A cabinet decision made it likely today that considerable interests of American automobile manufacturers in Japan would be subjected to a system of rigid government regulation because of the army's determination to control industry of vital importance to its military program. The cabinet approved unanimously the draft of an automotive industry control law for presentation to Parliament early in 1936.

Tokyo—A foreign office spokesman said today that outbreak of an Italian-Ethiopian war before the end of the year might compel postponement of the establishment of a Japanese legation to Addis Ababa.

Nanking—Wang Ching-Wei, Nationalist government premier and foreign minister, resigned today because of illness. His resignation went to the Kuomintang (Nationalist government party) central executive committee, which appointed him, and to President Lin Sen. Wang is bedridden at Tsingtao, Shantung province.

Berlin—A deficiency in certain German food supplies was described by an authoritative source today as a possibility, with a definite shortage of fats and fruits already existing and with vegetable crops in doubt. The authority said staples, like bread, grain and meat, were in a good position, but that prices were rising steadily and that the workingman was having difficulty getting what he wanted.

Bucharest, Rumania—A train of 32 petroleum tank cars exploded today after the first six caught fire following a collision with a train of six locomotives near Brasov. No one was reported killed.

Finish Fight Over Unionism Looming

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 9 (AP)—A finish fight at the next American Federation of Labor convention on the issue of industrial unionism appeared inevitable today.

John L. Lewis, scrappy president of the United Mine Workers, is slated to lead the fight for organization of mass production industries by industry.

John Frey, president of the Federation's metal trades department, is preparing to defend the craft type of organization.

The issue probably will come up with the appeal of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, a western metal mine organization, from the Federation executive council's decision that a number of craft unions should organize employees working at Anaconda Copper Company plants in Montana. The metal mine union professes to be an industrial organization.

The automobile and steel industries also are involved. Craft unions, such as the Machinists and Sheet Metal Workers, contend that they should organize craftsmen in various industries. A machinist in the automobile industry, they say, should belong to the machinist's union.

A prediction from William Green, Federation president, that the New York work relief strike would spread to other large industrial centers where trade unions were strongly entrenched followed yesterday's meeting of the council.

Trouble such as that Hugh S. Johnson, New York work relief director, had encountered was anticipated by the Federation when it urged Congress to pay the prevailing local wage for relief work. Green said the Federation is maintaining a "hands-off" policy toward the strike, leaving it to unions directly concerned.

Love Of Country Basis Of Communism Report

Moscow, Aug. 9 (AP)—An assurance that Communists in America would not disturb the religious beliefs or practices of others who wished to join them in a united front movement was given today by an American delegate, Gil Green, in a speech to the Communist International.

"The uniform front is not directed against religious convictions, but against political reaction," asserted Green, using the word reaction to refer to alleged Fascist tendencies.

Green said that proof of the Communists' sincerity was found in their attitude during the second American youth congress, when religiously inclined participants were permitted to have church services on Sundays.

The Communists thus avoided a split in the united front movement, dispelling fears of "many young people who were skeptical over the possibilities of union with Communists and thought it was a trap to impose atheistic ideas on them," Green said.

He is head of the American Communist, or Communist Youth Organization.

Green said patriotism was not overlooked as a factor of utmost importance in the appeal. Offsetting the Fascist emphasis on this factor, he said the united front and hence the Communists too were placing emphasis on it.

"The natural love of youth for its native country," said Green, "has been understood and stressed in connection with the necessity of taking the country and its wealth from the hands of the plutocrats."

Firemen's Carnival
The firemen of High Falls will hold a big carnival at High Falls for three days commencing August 15. They promise new features for each evening. Dancing will be free. The committee has been fortunate in securing for this event the popular Walter A. De Graff and his celebrated orchestra. The firemen have made preparations for a large crowd nightly.

Senator Desmond Hits At Jobholders

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, called on New Yorkers today to "strike at expensively inefficient jobholders" by ratifying this fall the constitutional amendment paving the way for county government reform.

Opening a state-wide campaign for the adoption of the amendment at the November election, Senator Desmond told the Elmira Rotary Club that "it is none too early for people to start a vigorous opposition to what selfish groups there are in both parties."

"Undoubtedly," he said, "the amendment will be actively opposed by many professional politicians and holders of unnecessary political jobs in both parties."

The amendment, in brief, would require the legislature to provide by law for the organization and government of counties, offering alternative forms to be adopted by the electorate.

"If passed," Senator Desmond said, "it will make possible the complete modernization of local government with resulting savings of millions of dollars to the taxpayers and increased efficiency of governmental services."
